Gardiner Takes Britons To Task on Food Deals

OTTAWA, Dec. 9.—(BUP)—Frankly dissatisfied with Britain's 1949 program for food purchases from Canada, Agricultural Minister J. G. Gardiner today declared that while in Britain he intends to "lay Canada's case before the British people."

Gardiner, leaves today for the United Kingdom, where he is to negotiate the price that Canada will receive for her 1949 wheat crop. While overseas he has several speaking engagements, notably one with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in London.

Gardiner

He said that negotiations with British government officials had closed here on the reduced 1949 totals, announced yesterday, for bacon and eggs, and the unchanged totals for cheese. It would not be possible, therefore, to re-open the discussions with the British government, but it would be possible to carry Canada's case to the British people, both in public addresses and in interviews with the press. He said he intended to do this.

BLAMES OFFICIALS

The minister blamed the "continuing officials" of the British government for the policy of slashing food purchases from Canada. He charged that they preferred to deal with European countries, rather than with Canada.

"This policy," he charged, "isn't new and it didn't begin with the present British government. We ran into it in the early war days, even as far back as 1940. It is the work of the permanent officials of the government. They are continuous. And they want to trade with Europe and with Denmark."

He referred to today's announcement of a further bacon deal between Britain and Denmark.

INCREASE AMOUNT

"The new agreement calls," he commented, "for the purchase by Britain of 70,000,000 pounds of

Frank Currie Fined $100

Frank Currie, Edmonton Flyers' hockey coach, will be short $100 Christmas spending money as a result of a fracas in which he was involved at Saskatoon last Friday.

President D. P. McDonald of Calgary issued a statement to The Bulletin this morning in which he announced a $100 fine for the Flyer boss.

ENGAGED IN TUSSLE

The fracas at Saskatoon resulted when Currie entered the officials' room following a Western Canada League game which Flyers lost 5-2 and engaged in a tussle with Referee Buck Crawford.

Following is President McDonald's statement to The Bulletin:

I have completed my investigation of the report of the referees with reference to the game played between Edmonton and Saskatoon at Saskatoon on Friday the third instant.

The report stated that the manager of the Edmonton club, Frank Currie, had entered the referees' dressing room after the game, resulting in a tussle between Mr. Currie and Referee Crawford.

The action by Mr. Currie in entering the referees' room is contrary to the provisions of rule twelve, section C. If Mr. Currie had not entered the room the tussle with Referee Crawford would not have occurred.

MUST PAY FINE

Under the circumstances, my ruling is that Mr. Currie pay a fine to the league of one hundred dollars on or before the fifteenth of December next and in default of payment of the fine stand suspended for the period December fifteenth to January first, inclusive.

Prince Albert Elects Cuelenaere

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Dec. 9.—(CP)—Mayor J. M. Cuelenaere was re-elected chief magistrate of Prince Albert in yesterday's civic election, defeating Ald. D. G. Blackwood.

AMA Purchases Site For Office

The property purchased is located on the east side of 109 street north of 100 avenue.

Purchase price of the two lots acquired by the AMA was $8,200.

It was estimated the new structure will cost approximately $50,000.

BABY BORN WHILE MOTHER ALL ALONE

Mrs. Alec Stark, St. Paul, gave birth to a six and one-half pound baby boy while all alone in her farm home.

'Blackout' Hits South Side Homes

Hundreds Of Dwellings Are Darkened By Power Failure

Hundreds of South Side residents groped in a peacetime blackout for several hours Wednesday ,following a breakdown in electric light transmission lines.

Householders in a large area in the southwest section of the city went back to grandfather's day as they ate supper by candlelight.

Transmission line break, that defied detection for several hours, was at 75 avenue and 116 street. Lights went out at 5:15 p.m. and lighting service in the whole area was not restored until 11 o'clock.

The area affected by the break was south of Whyte avenue and west of 104 street to the city limits on both the west and south sides.

City linemen battled 20-below zero weather to restore service to the affected areas.

They progressively restored light to the affected areas and most districts were receiving full light service by 11 p.m.

BACK AT 2 A.M.

Complete restoration of service was made in the area about 2 a.m. Thursday.

A second line break occurred at midnight at 125 street and 107 avenue. This break was corrected and full service restored about 3 a.m.

Cause of both line breaks, according to Dave C. Raitt, superintendent of the electric light department, was frost-contraction snapping the transmission line.

The line-break was the longest recorded in the 30 years experience of Mr. Raitt with the department.

Candles were at a premium in the district as residents flocked to neighborhood stores to purchase any type of illumination available.

Many residents were unable to obtain candles or paraffin oil lamps

HEATING FAILS

Besides the inconvience of being without lights many residents returned to chilly homes when automatic thermostat furnace control was thrown out of operation by the power break.

Several residents reported the temperature in their homes had dropped below 50 degrees when they returned after work or shopping.

Weather Here Only 27 Below

Dire predictions of a frigid 35 below temperature not only failed to materialize overnight when the minimum was only -27 at 7:00 a.m., but slightly milder weather is in the offing.

Although -27 is the year's coldest reading, the hint of a milder spell comes as a relief to shivering, earmuffed, fur-coated and over-shoed Edmontonians.

Tonight's minimum prediction is for a mere -15, while the high for Friday is a relatively warm 5 above.

Credit for the relief to the western prairies from the very cold weather was given to a weakening storm centre moving in from the Pacific coast.

This was the first indication in many days that the cold air mass moving out of the northwest is abating.

WHITECOURT COLDEST

Lowest temperature in Alberta was recorded at Whitecourt with -41. Warmest or least cold Alberta point was Cowie with -18, followed closely by Lethbridge which had its first below zero reading of the season with -20.

Showing a little less severity, cold weather in the northwest was led by Fort Good Hope with -60, followed by Yellowknife at -51, Norman Wells with -50, Aklavik with -47 and Snag—usually the lowest of the low—a mild -39.

Saskatoon captured the dubious award as the coldest spot on the prairies proper with -37, as the season's first extensive snow drifting covered much of Saskatchewan.

No Reds In Edmonton C of C, Says Official

This statement was made by Don McKay, executive secretary of the trade body, when commenting on a Winnipeg report that Communist party members headed three western Canada Boards of Trade.

He said there has been no screening of members, nor had they been questioned on their party affiliations but there was no evidence of tactics by members that would indicate Communistic tendencies.

DENIAL IN CALGARY

In Calgary, H. Gordon Love, president, Calgary Board of Trade, said there "were no Communists in that body as far as he knew, nor any evidence of actions that would indicate Communistic suporters."

In Regina, Alex Aitken, commissioner of Regina Chamber of Commerce, said he agreed with a statement that Communists were members of several boards of trade.

Mr. Aitken said he knew of one self-avowed Communist who was a member of a Saskatchewan board, and believed others had Communistic leanings.

He added no definite suspicions had arisen of Communists within the Regina trade body.

In Montreal today D. L. Morrell, executive secretary, Canadian Chamber of Commerce, stated that "no pro-Communist organization is permitted to enter the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, adding that boards of trade in western Canada infiltrated by Communists are not members of the national body.

The existence of Communists in board ranks was claimed yesterday by H. A. Purdy, Regina, field service representative for the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, who said he had discovered in the past six months, avowed Communists as presidents of three boards of trade and about 50 per cent of the members of one board with Communist sympathies."

Imperial Seeks Well Reduction

Company Asks Cut In Redwater Area

A reduction in the number of oil wells allowable per quarter section of land in the Redwater area has been asked by Imperial Oil Limited.

A submission to the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board in Calgary today recommended that the number of wells in the newly found field be reduced from four to one per quarter section.

Common spacing of wells in most areas of Alberta is one well per legal sub-division of 40 acres as set forth by the Oil and Gas Wells Act.

Imperial's submission deals only with the newly discovered Redwater field which some authorities already believe will surpass the Leduc-Woodbend field in size.

Crux of the submission, according to Imperial officials interviewed in Calgary by telephone today, is the economic aspect of production.

"Very soon," said Don MacKenzie, assistant manager of Imperial Oil at Calgary, "production is going to exceed refinery capacity. Rapidly expanding production is going to bump into a ceiling."

PRODUCTION CUT

When this occurs, he said, each new well "is going to reduce the allowable production of other wells."

Opinion was expressed that the net result will be beneficial to small independent companies rather than a deterrent to them.

It was pointed out that it would be far more economical to take the entire production allowable for a quarter section from one well, than to drill four and let each one only produce one-quarter of the same allowable limit.

Mr. MacKenzie expressed the belief that the smaller number of wells would not be "any more or any less efficient" in obtaining oil.

The fact was stressed that the plan is "flexible" and if adopted as proposed by Imperial would allow for increasing the number of wells per quarter if it should be advisable in the future.

Attitude of most independent companies to the proposal was wary today.

NO COMMENT

Officials of Anglo-Home, who own two strategic quarter sections in the Redwater area, declined to comment on the proposal until they had had more time to study it.

The Anglo-Home combination, which has already begun drilling of two wells on one quarter in the Redwater area, paid $653,064 for two quarter sections at a government sale on Nov. 10.

Another independent suggested that the present regulations should remain unchanged.

LEDUC BOOSTS CANADA'S OIL PRODUCTION

Output of the Leduc oil field has boosted Canada's crude petroleum and natural gasoline production this year.

The Bureau of Statistics in Ottawa reported production in the first nine months of this year was 8,649,000 barrels compared with 5,516,000 in the corresponding period of 1947.

In September production exceeded the 1,000,000 - barrel mark for the fourth successive month. It amounted to 1,101,000 barrels compared with the record of 1,245,000 barrels in August.

September output from Leduc alone was 462,000 barrels compared with 583,000 in August and 33,000 in September, 1947. Turner Valley's output was lower in September, amounting to 347,000 barrels compared with 352,000 in August and 400,000 in September 1947.

Total output for Alberta was 978,000 barrels against 1,104,000 in August and 557,000 in September of last year.

City Man Gets 7-Year Term

Long trail of crime left by Joseph Yedlinski, 12615 129 avenue, through central Alberta, the United States and southern British Columbia, ended Thursday morning when he was sentenced to serve seven years in Prince Albert penitentiary.

He faced 13 charges of burglary and of escaping custody.

A younger brother, Edward Yedlinski, who participated in break-ins at Jarrow and Lavoy, Alta., was sentenced to three years in Prince Albert on burglary charges.

Sentences were passed by Magistrate A. I. Millar.

ESCAPES MENTAL HOME

The trail of crime of the elder Yedlinski brother started last June 10 when he escaped from custody at the Oliver Mental Institute. He had been sent there for examination while serving an 18-month sentence for false pretenses.

On June 11, he broke into stores at Beauvalon and Vegreville, from which $200 were stolen.

In a car that had been stolen in Edmonton, Yedlinski fled to the United States where at least five break-ins were committed, accord-

Continental 5 Big Producer

A new drilling record for a producing well was believed hung up by Northern Development Wednesday when Continental-Leduc Woodbend 5 was kicked into production.

The well was completed in the Cretaceous one month to the day after its predecessor, Continental-Leduc-Woodbend 4 was kicked off after being drilled by the same rig.

Actual drilling time for the completion was 17 days. The hole was completed at a depth of 4,225 feet.

Wednesday's kick-off, at 9 p.m., gave a spectacular flare which roared out at an estimated rate of 200 barrels per hour.

Spectators said a solid column of oil 10 to 15 feet high stood on the end of the flare line before flame ballooned out from it.

Continental-Leduc-Woodbend 6, on the next location west of the new producer, is expected to spud in by December 14, using the same rig.

No. 5 was Continental's third straight success on the same quarter section.

Fire Burning On Thorsby Main Street

Fire roared through the main business section of Thorsby, 35 miles southwest of Edmonton today, threatening to wipe out the entire town.

Flames, breaking out in the one-storey Hale block at 12:10 p.m., soon consumed the entire building, housing a radio shop and several residential suites.

Spreading north with great rapidity the fire wiped out in turn a barber shop and beauty parlor and leaped to the large two-storey Hoffman's general store.

BUCKET BRIGADES

Townspeople fought the flames with hastily-organized bucket brigades but were unable to check the spread of the fire by this method. The town has no underground water system.

Firefighters were handicapped by temperature of more than 20 below zero but an absence of wind gave rise to hopes that the fire could be confined to one block of the main street.

FIRE TRUCK ON WAY

Edmonton fire department was notified of the fire but is not sending equipment.

Telephone operator at Thorsby said in conversation with The Bulletin soon after 1:00 p.m.:

"I think the fire will die out at the end of the block but if a wind comes up the whole town will burn down."

Labor Congress Asks Price Control Return

OTTAWA, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Re-imposition of price control and revival of excess profits tax were requested today in a brief submitted to the prices commission by the Canadian Congress of Labor.

The brief, read by Eugene Forsey, director of research of the Congress also sought higher corporation taxes, reductions in sales and excise taxes and higher exemptions in personal income tax.

The Congress' brief, one of a series from national organizations being heard by the commission, declared that tax reductions by themselves would not be enough to ease the pressure of rising prices on consumers.

"Raising the exemptions on small incomes would give small consumers more purchasing power, but most of all it would be promptly mopped up by manufacturers and merchants in a position to charge

Jean and Joan Join To Confuse Editors

Many and interesting are the letters submitted with photographs of twins in The Bulletin's $200 Twin Photo Contest.

Entrants go to great length to explain likeness and unlikeness of the twins in the photographs submitted.

But today's mail brought a new "problem." A mother of twin girls sent the following note with their picture:

"Just a note to tell you that we don't know which is Jean or Joan in this photograph as we never thought of marking them."

But despite the upward trend of entries, country contestants still head the list of twin portraits received.

Remember folks, there is less than two weeks left in this contest, so if you are planning on entering your twin photos we suggest you get them in early.

As mentioned before, there are no strings attached to this easy contest—anyone is eligible to enter.

For full details, rules and regulations on how to enter, turn to page 19 of Edmonton's better newspaper—The Bulletin.

B.C. Attacks Rail Operating Charges

Wismer Says Dangers Less On Coast Than Prairies

OTTAWA, Dec. 9—(CP)—A British Columbia attack on railway evidence in the "mountain differential" freight-rate case was due to continue today before the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer of B.C. had under cross-examination E. S. McCracken of Vancouver, general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Pacific region.

Mr. McCracken was the first CPR witness heard by the board this week as it continued sessions here on a B.C. application for removal of the mountain differential rate on some freight hauls over the Rockies. The rate is 1¼ times the prairie scale.

REFUTE CHARGES

Mr. Wismer's opening cross-examination yesterday was devoted to attempting to knock down the railway's contention that higher B.C. operating costs justify the above-normal rate.

Mr. McCracken had testified CPR operating costs in British Columbia are 35 per cent above those on the Prairies, and Mr. Wismer challenged a number of the individual cost factors.

However, Mr. McCracken disagreed with him on some points and declined to comment on others.

Generally, the superintendent said, he did not know of "any advantages" B.C. might have over the Prairies in railway operation.

Mr. Wismer insisted B.C. had lower costs than the prairies for snow removal and water supplies, and he also contended damage danger from water such as rains and streams was less in B.C. than in some areas.

CCL Asks Price Control Return

AGREES WITH ABBOTT

Mr. Conroy said the Congress agrees with Finance Minister Abbott that tax reduction by itself would increase inflationary pressures.

The brief said the Congress realizes that re-imposition of price control could not be done painlessly but added that it doubts whether there is a painless solution to current problems.

Canadians must make up their minds whether they really want to do something about prices or not, and, if they do, they must be prepared to make the necessary changes to price control.

Re-imposition of excess profits taxes was urged as an essential means of control, but the brief added that the question of wage controls required further study.

"The Congress submits that wages can rise and perhaps rise considerably without breaking a price ceiling, provided they do not rise faster than productivity and provided there is a margin of squeezability in profits," it declared.

SURPLUS GONE?

Referring to the possibility of increased defence expenditure, the brief said it appeared that the government's surplus might "soon be swallowed up by re-armament."

"If the government is to re-enter the market as a large and urgent buyer of materials which are still scarce, it can only have the effect of bidding up prices unless controls are re-imposed."

Monopolistic tendencies which it declared exist in Canada were attacked in the brief. It urged that the only real alternative to private monopoly was public monopoly.

Israeli's Bid Seems Stymied

PARIS, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Israel's bid to become the 59th member of the United Nations this year appeared today to be doomed to failure. It is stymied in the Security Council.

Genocide Outlawed

PARIS, Dec. 9.—(BUP)—The United Nations General Assembly today overwhelmingly approved a proposed treaty to outlaw genocide—mass murder of national, racial or religious groups.

UN Palestine Plan Tabled

PARIS, Dec. 9—(CP)— New amendments to the United Nations political committee's Palestine resolution will be tabled today by at least five sponsoring countries including Canada, it was learned reliably. This resolution is expected to reach the general assembly tomorrow.

An official source said the sponsoring countries are Canada, Australia, Brazil, China and Colombia. It is possible one or two others may join the group.

In effect, the amendments strike out references to the Bernadotte Plan and to the partition resolution of Nov. 29, 1947, except where it relates to the Jerusalem area.

Also killed is the third operative section of the Palestine resolution. This called for the Big Five powers to choose the three members of the conciliation commission.

This provision originally was inserted in the resolution by Hon. L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister who heads the Dominion delegation here. Australia objected to the provision.

In a bid for Arab support, one amendment would delete a section calling for good relations between "the state of Israel, the Arabs of Palestine and the neighboring Arab states." The Arabs stand fast against any recognition that a Jewish state exists.

Gardiner Flails Food Dealings

bacon from Denmark. My reading of the announcement indicates to me that this amount is additional to the 50,000,000 pounds of Danish bacon for which the British government already had contracted. The price of bacon under the new contract is not announced, but under the earlier contract for 50,000,000 pounds it was higher than the price which is being paid to Canada."

Gardiner characterized the bacon, egg, and cheese contracts, announced yesterday, as "probably adequate" to the purpose of maintaining a satisfactory floor price for Canadian farm products, but as "useless" for purposes of stimulating production.

He differed with British Food Minister John Strachey's statement to the British house that Canada in the past year had contracted to supply Britain with 100,000 tons of bacon.

CONVERSION PLAN

The correct figure, Gardiner said, was 87,000 tons. This was the maximum amount to which British officials would agree at the time at which Canadian producers were settling their production targets for the year. Later, the British had agreed to convert their year's beef contract, which they weren't anxious to complete, into terms of pork, just in case Canadian producers should exceed their production estimates. The figure of 100,000 tons had never been a firm commitment, he said.

"You cannot get farmers into hog production at a couple of months' notice; it requires a year to do it," the minister of agriculture pointed out.

He added by way of warning:

"And if the British say now that they will take only 160,000,000 pounds of bacon, it will be of no avail to them to come along next fall and say that they will take more. If they are going to want more bacon next fall, now is the time for them to say so."

He declined to give any indication of his proposed asking price for Canadian wheat and said "I don't know just how the discussions will start, and I won't until I get over there."

COMPENSATION

But other sources, close to the Dominion's wheat situation, said it was certain he would ask for a price that would compensate Canadian growers for the "bargain prices" at which Britain has bought this country's wheat over the past few years.

The general view here was that Canadian growers would be within their rights to ask for an increase of about 18 cents over the average price they received for 460,000,000 bushels supplied to Britain over the past three years.

Britain paid $1.55 a bushel for Canadian wheat in 1946 and 1947. In 1948 the price was raised to $2.00 a bushel.

ing to evidence given the court by Corporal J. Molyneaux of the RCMP.

He returned to Alberta in late August and in the following two months a series of nine break-ins were committed in the towns of Bruce, Strome, Bawlf, Innisfree, Jarrow and Lavoy.

12 CHARGES LAID

A total of twelve charges were laid by RCMP against the elder brother following the series of break-ins. Nine of the charges were for breaking, entry and theft for which he received a sentence of seven years on each charge. Sentence of five years was given for each of three charges of breaking and entry with intent.

A sentence of one year was given on an additional charge of escape from custody. All sentences are concurrent.

The brothers were arrested at Vernon, B.C.

When arrested the elder brother was carrying a loaded .22 calibre revolver under his shirt. Another revolver was concealed in the glove compartment of the car, another was hidden in the lining of the front seat and a rifle was lying on the rear seat of the car.

CAR REPAINTED

Name plates and hub caps of the car had been changed and it had been repainted in an effort to disguise it.

The elder brother told Magistrate Millar(before sentence was passed that he had acted under threats from a partner Bernie Zegzula. On several occasions, he said, Zegzula had threatened him with a gun.

Court was then informed by Crown Prosecutor Don Masson that Zegzula had been in jail since September 7. A long list of convictions against Joseph Yedlinski dating back to 1942 was also read to the court.

Imperial Asks Well Reduction

in the Redwater area," he said, "they'll never be paid back at that rate."

D. P. Goodall, of the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board in Calgary, said the board will consider the proposal at a meeting Dec. 14 to which representatives of all other oil companies will be invited.

He intimated that the only stand the Board could take with regard to a saturated market would be that they could not allow "wasteful production."

He said it is the common belief that closer spacing of wells allows more efficient production and higher final output of a producing area.

The new field at Redwater was discovered by Imperial Redwater 1 which is, to date, the only producing well in the field.

Imperial Redwater 4, five miles to the northwest, is also an assured producer but has not yet been placed on production.

Imperial officials stressed that, contrary to early reports, physical findings which Imperial had discovered while drilling their number one well in the area had nothing to do with the submission.

The material prefaced the submission, they said, merely to supply a background of information about the possibilities of the area.

One point mentioned was that a free gas cap, which supplies pressure to bring oil produced to the surface, is missing in the Redwater field.

NOT CERTAIN

Water was encountered under the oil at Imperial Redwater 1, but it is not known if it will prove a driving force to bring the oil to the surface.

"Imperial has now arrived at the point where its Prairie refineries are saturated with Alberta crude and we believe the entire industry is very close to this point," the submission declared.

It added the belief that the industry will soon be governed entirely by refinery and transportation capacity rather than the number of producing wells as in the past.

Flood Damage Is $1 Million

MONTREAL, Dec. 9.—(CP)—City hall officials today placed a tentative estimate of $1,000,000 damage caused by yesterday's water-main break resulting in flooding of several streets in downtown Montreal.

They estimated $100,000 will be needed to repair the broken main and buckled pavements and $900,000 to replace ruined and damaged stocks in buildings and to strengthen weakened foundations of buildings.

The break occurred at St. Antoine and St. David streets, spreading 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 gallons of water over 10 city blocks.

Eight street car routes were affected at the time and today all traffic, tramway and motorcar, was still re-routed off the downtown section of St. Antoine street for fear of a cave-in.

Westlock Girls Present Play

WESTLOCK, Dec. 9.—A highly successful stage performance was staged by the Westlock W. I. Girls club in the Memorial Hall recently when a one act play was presented to an audience of more than 100. Preceding the play was a series of amateur presentations by local residents that delighted the audience.

Participating in the pre-play presentations were Mrs. L. Green, at the piano; Mrs. R. Green, whistling; Mrs. MacGregor, at the piano; with vocal renditions by a group including Shirley Bishop, Marg. Holt, Joan Kickham, violin selections; piano renditions by Marian Downing, Ruth Missal, and Helen Hough.

Stacey Seskus was master of ceremonies and the show was produced by Mrs. Blacklock and Mrs. Selfridge.

More than 40 of the Girls club participated in the play which was very well received.

Alberta Car Plates Held Too Expensive

Police crack-down on persons driving autos in Edmonton which are not registered at the provincial license bureau resulted in fines totalling $15 in police court today.

Fined $5 and costs each were Harry McDermott, 14215 101 avenue, William Kerr, 11242 103 street and Frank Cockrall, 9615 118 avenue.

Charged with the same offence, John K. Fraser, Edmonton, complained to Magistrate A. I. Millar that he "couldn't afford" the $16.25 required to buy Alberta license plates.

Magistrate Millar ordered him off to the provincial license office to obtain the necessary plates before he returned to court at 2 p.m.

Speeding charges brought $25 fines to both Richard D. Bond, 5629 111 avenue and to John A. Mills, Onoway. Bond's driver's license was suspended for three months.

Marcel W. Tettamante, 11711 89 street, pleaded guilty to violating traffic regulations by making a left turn between intersections and was fined $10 and costs.

3-Year Term Is Imposed

Three-year penitentiary sentence was imposed by Mr. Justice S. J. Shepherd in supreme court today on George Nelson, city resident with a lengthy criminal record.

He was found guilty of a charge of breaking and entering Hanna's Red and White store, 11562 Jasper avenue, Nov. 5 last and stealing therefrom eight to 10 cartons of cigarettes and 10 boxes of chocolate bars.

Previous to the break-in, Nelson's lodgings had been searched by RCMP Corporal H. M. Silver.

He found tools in the lodgings that could be used for housebreaking. He marked these tools, one of which was found in the Hanna store by investigating officers.

Supreme Court Trial Elected

Charged in police court Wednesday with two shop-breaking offences, John Prudhomme elected to be tried in Supreme Court.

It is alleged that on the night of Oct. 31, accused took a suit of clothes from Dittrich's Men's Shop, and a fountain pen from the offices of the Toronto General Trust Co.

He was remanded to Dec. 15 for preliminary hearing.

Friends Blamed For Thefts

Girl friends who spent the night in their room are suspected of the theft of a small quantity of money, a pair of shoes and two pairs of stockings from Lena Dwasiuk and Patricia Kaducki, 9525 108 avenue Tuesday.

The complainants said the money was taken from their purses and goods stolen from their room after two friends shared the premises with them.

Forest Heights Group Asks Fire Protection

Fire protection in the Forest Heights district is urgently required, it was reported at the regular monthly meeting of the Home and School Association Wednesday evening.

It was decided to have the fire marshal or a deputy attend a general meeting in January, and have a report on what can be done in the way of fire hydrants and a fire alarm system.

The civic committee was requested to take some action to break the deadlock between the city and the community, which it is claimed is preventing the growth of Forest Heights. Sale of property is restricted, and it is possible to build only one house on eight lots, it was said. At the same time, the city will not install public utilities on the grounds that the population and buildings do not warrant it.

Residents feel that a community which has been in existence since 1912 should by 1948, have a share in public utilities.

Health classes will be started at Forest Heights school on Jan. 21, for girls from 10 to 15 years of age. Classes will be taught by Mrs. S. G. Douglas, Mrs. J. Muir, and Mrs. Dalzell, all registered nurses.

Army Officer Moves Here From Calgary

Western Army Command today announced appointment of Capt. W. A. H. Law, RCAC, as new general staff officer, Grade 3, at Edmonton headquarters.

Captain Law, formerly of the Calgary detachment of WAC, takes over his new post here this week.

Attached to the Armored Brigade during the war, Capt. Law had an extensive tour of duty throughout Burma and the Far East. He has been posted at Calgary since the end of the war, as officer in charge of that detachment.

School Building Help Is Refused

Provincial Government Reiterates Stand To Delegates

Pleas for aid from the provincial treasury in school construction costs were rejected Wednesday by Alberta's cabinet. Two delegations from educational groups were reminded the government had previously announced such assistance would not be given.

The Alberta Educational Council, representing 31 organizations within the province, took vigorous exception to a statement in the Judge Commission report on provincial-municipal tax relations that capital expenditures were often dictated by a "whim of the people".

This group urged the government again to pay part of capital costs and demanded explanation from the government if the disputed statement in the Judge report has government endorsation.

SIMILAR REQUESTS

Other delegation from the Alberta School Trustees Association made similar requests in presenting the resolutions passed at their last annual convention.

Both groups expressed displeasure with a recent amendment to Alberta legislation which empowers municipal districts to reject school district appropriations for funds which exceed the previous years appropriations by more than 20 per cent.

CONTROL SAID LESS

Both felt this measure tended to lessen the control of school boards over expenditures incurred in education within their areas.

Both delegations pointed to an anomoly in the Judge report in which it is suggested the provincial government conduct a survey of inadequate school buildings in Alberta and still suggests no government aid be given toward cost of construction of the new buildings which might be required following the survey.

City Licenses Up Sharply

General licenses, dog and bicycle licenses issued by the city license department during the first 11 months this year set new records.

There were 8,100 general licenses issued, compared with 7,632 for the 11 months period of last year. The 1947 total was the previous record.

Bicycle licenses issued during the 11 months period this year totalled 13,634, compared with 13,294 for the same period last year. The record for any year was established in 1946 when 13,478 licenses were issued.

Dog tags issued in the first 11 months of this year totalled 5,966 compared with 5,423 for the same period last year.

Revenue collected by the department during the 1948 period amounted to $118,912 compared with $110,128 for the 1947 period ended Nov. 30, 1947.

Two of Every Three Hogs Claimed Taken for Taxes

Two of every three hogs produced by Alberta farmers go to the federal government for income taxes.

This was contended by President Carl J. Stimpfle of the Alberta Farmers' Union today as he predicted a possible drop in volume of hogs produced in this province.

Stabilized prices are also necessary before Alberta farmers will go in for large-scale hog-raising, he said.

Mr. Stimpfle said that federal agricultural policies will have to be drastically changed at the next session of parliament or hog production is certain to drop.

"Alberta farmers told agricultural minister Hon. James G. Gardiner exactly what would happen under existing coarse grain and income tax policies," Mr. Stimpfle said. "He told us we were wrong."

Around 85 per cent of hogs raised in Alberta are raised as overtime work, the AFU president declared.

"Farmers are the same as organized labor workers. They will not work overtime and pay practically all of their earnings back to the government in income taxes," he said.

Prices for hogs can never be stabilized until the federal government places coarse grains under the wheat board for marketing, the farm leader said.

"There is little use telling farmers it is a mistake to stop raising hogs unless the uncertainty as to costs of production is removed. Fluctuations in prices of coarse grain feed for hogs are a big factor of discouragement to Alberta hog raisers.

"Britain, of course, is reducing her contract volume for Canadian bacon because she only has so much money to buy imports with," Mr. Stimpfle said.

Legion Group Holds Vote

Members of the Canadian Legion, Kingsway Branch 175, Wednesday night elected Harold Wright president of the organization for the coming year. Mr. Wright succeeds Roy Taylor.

The new Legion Branch head was elected by acclamation, along with C. H. Faulkner, first vice-president, and H. Williams, who will serve the organization as second vice-president for the coming year.

Mr. Wright is director of recreational services with the local branch of the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

Named to the nine-man executive of the Kingsway Legion were: A. Babtie, W. A. Dunaway, J. Gagnon, R. Harvey, W. Lipsett, G. Martin, Dr. H. McCaffery, E. Saunders and C. Williams.

Traffic Tie-Up Solution Found

Transit system traffic tie-up simiiliar to that which occurred on Tuesday afternoon is unlikely to be repeated as a result of precautions taken today by city commissioners.

The tie-up resulted from overload on the transmission wires which tripped switches in the substation serving routes in the northwest section of the city.

In future during peak-load periods an electrician will attend at the sub-station to throw switches back when tripped by the overload on wires.

RCMP Given Bomb Report

One month from the time of alleged occurrence, a "bomb-throwing" in Edmonton's Gem Theatre Sunday, Nov. 7, was reported to the subversive activities branch of the RCMP Thursday.

George Solomon, Alberta secretary of the Association of United Ukrainian Canadians complained to police Wednesday. They said today the matter had been referred to the RCMP.

At the time of reporting the incident Wednesday, Mr. Solomon turned over to police a spent metal container which he claimed had been discharged at the meeting.

Interviewed today, he said two unidentified men were observed to walk backstage, drop the bomb and because of the noise and the "heavy" smoke, make good their get-away.

Reason for not reporting the matter immediately, he explained, was that "we took it for granted, since there was a policeman on duty at the theatre the matter would be investigated."

"Later, after the Ukrainian press ran the story and the AUUC complained to the Minister of Justice, we felt that to be sufficient," he said.

"Our complaint to city police," Mr. Solomon said, "was decided upon after a recent editorial concerning the episode in the Edmonton Journal.'

According to the AUUC secretary, the explosion occurred while William Terisio, AUUC national president, was addressing "five or six hundred" persons.

RCMP made no comment.

Bank Clearings Up

Bank clearings through the Edmonton clearing house this week amounted to $19,063,893, compared with $15,548,164 for the same period last year.

TROPICAL DISEASE REPORTED IN CITY

First case of amoebic dysentery in Edmonton's history was reported today to the city health department.

It is a fairly common disease in tropical and subtropical countries but extremely rare in temperate climes.

The victim is a three-year-old boy residing on the south side who arrived in the city with his parents from Burma and India a few months ago.

Announcing the finding of the disease here Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health, said "it serves as a reminder that the future, with it's rapid travel, can bring more and more of these exotic diseases to our community."

Overloaded Power Lines

Something drastic will have to be done about the overloads on trolley lines that cause periodic interruption of the Edmonton transit service.

In the West End, service was off between 5:15 and 5:45 on Tuesday afternoon. Another break occurred on the South Side at 11:10 p.m.

In severe weather like the present, these periodic breaks not only cause grave inconvenience to passengers but impose an actual hardship upon those who stand on street corners waiting for cars and buses.

The cause of these 30-minute interruptions in the transit service is not any actual shortage of power at the powerhouse.

The interruptions occur when cars or buses are massed too closely together and thus cause an overload on the wire in some particular area.

When this happens, the safety breakers are automatically thrown and power in that area is shut off.

If the safety breakers did not work when the line was overloaded, the surge of power through the line would exceed its capacity and it would burn out.

Two steps are urgently and immediately required to prevent these irritating, expensive and dangerous interruptions of service:

1. More feeder lines should be constructed out of the powerhouse.

2. The non-grouping order issued to bus and street car drivers should be strictly enforced with sharp penalties for those who ignore it.

Everybody is familiar with the convoy procession of buses one sees upon the streets upon occasion.

If these buses would keep even two blocks apart, the power overloading and break in the service would probably not occur.

But when the vehicles jam up together, especially with peak traffic, something is bound to give way.

Chilled and belated passengers, as well as those interested in efficient transit service, demand that prompt and vigorous action be taken with regard to these unnecessary breaks.

Highway to Peace River

Highway needs of the North country are stressed in recommendations made to the provincial government by a conference in Edmonton sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Specifically, this conference urges:

1. Gravelling of a highway through the centre of the Peace River area from east to west on the line of Donnelly to Watino to Rycroft.

2. Improving of the present highway by way of Lesser Slave Lake, which would mean that some stretches of this road would have to be moved to higher ground.

3. Construction of a permanent hard-surfaced road northwest from Edmonton to provide a short cut to the Peace River country.

These concrete proposals are presented to the provincial government, not as a complete program of highways for the North, but as the very minimum immediate requirement.

With such recommendations every forward-looking citizen of Edmonton will be in full accord.

A modern and rapid system of travel between Edmonton and the North is essential to the prosperity of both.

If this city is to be the outlet for the North country, all means of communication must be brought up to date. For the usefulness of Edmonton to the North depends upon the North's availability to Edmonton.

Deficiencies in the Code

A 50-year-old Edmonton man who has spent nine years in jail since 1937 for repeated sex offences has been sentenced to another two-year term on another morals charge.

Unless some miracle occurs, this man will come out of confinement when his sentence is served and proceed with his course of corrupting the young.

This statement is made, not because this particular prisoner is unusually vicious, but because police experience shows that such people always repeat.

Obviously this man and others like him should be locked up, as dangerous lunatics are locked up, at the King's pleasure and released only when the authorities are satisfied that his erotic impulses are under control.

But the criminal code contains no such provision and magistrates must continue, under the law, to mete out trifling sentences that are utterly insufficient with respect to the gravity of the crime.

For the past four years and more there has been a spate of talk throughout Canada about this very situation. Thoughtful women's clubs, including those of Edmonton, have bombarded Ottawa with appeals to provide special treatment and indeterminate sentences for sex criminals.

There have been promises, but no action.

It is time something definite was done about it. The menace to young girls and boys is intolerable.

If the Canadian penal system is not prepared to give special psychological and physiological treatment to sex offenders, the criminal code should at least permit an indeterminate sentence to keep these people under lock and key until everybody is satisfied that they are cured of their tendencies.

ODDS AND ENDS

Some Reflections Upon Grandsiring a Child

My grandson, upon whose tiny head be peace, came into this turbulent world at precisely two minutes past nine last Sunday night and is said to have commenced his earthly life with a loud and abandoned hiccough which, I swear, he didn't get from me.

WEIR

December 5th, the date of his birth, is to be well noted, even before he begins to chisel his name upon the tablets of history, because it was the day after the California earthquake.

And I think it must be admitted by everybody that it is no plain or garden child whose appearance upon this planet is heralded by such prodigious signs and portents as the shaking of the earth.

For instance, the only thing that happened when I was born was a runaway horse on a milk wagon unless you want to count the fact that my Uncle Fred came home that day a trifle bibulous and was treated with contumely by the family.

I am credibly informed, too, that within a half hour of his birth, my grandson, being chucked under the chin by the doctor, permitted his face to break into a most seraphic smile.

I am worried, among other things, by that smile.

Daddy's Stories

The first thing that crossed my mind when I was informed, by long-distance telephone, of this phenomenon, was that my son-in-law had been cutting loose with some of his better risque stories and that the little chap, in an excess of filial zeal, had been merely applauding the one about the bootblack and the man from Harlem.

I discarded this theory at once because obviously the little fellow, in his innocency, would know nothing about bootblacks.

It occurred to me, too, that the smile may have been provoked by the first sight of his father's face.

But this also I rejected because, in spite of what people say, my son-in-law has a nice face. At any rate, it was chosen by my daughter and I shall say no more, blood being thicker than water.

But there it is. The young man smiled.

I know, of course, that child experts affirm that babies do not smile until they attain the sophistication of three or four months.

I reply that this is no common child.

For did the world not growl and thunder and heave its immensity the day before he was born?

Sharp Anxiety

While everyone must know that the strain of being a grandfather for the very first time is rather upsetting, I should like to have you know that I received the news in dignified and monumental calm.

I had just gone to bed at midnight after a quiet evening at a friend's house when the telephone jangled and I heard the voice of my son-in-law gibbering at me from far-away Toronto.

He sounded as though he were jumping up and down and clicking his heels and probably banging his head against the ceiling, which he doubtless was, but I managed to gather that my daughter had been delivered of a male child and that everybody was quite deliriously well and happy—including the new arrival who, as I think I said, had smiled.

I was not excited, not a bit of it.

After communicating the tidings to my wife, I climbed back into my own bed serenely.

The fact that I got into bed with my slippers on and left a lighted cigarette charring the mantlepiece had absolutely nothing to do with the occasion.

Surely a man can go to bed with his slippers on if he wants to.

Anyway, I got back into bed, slippers or no slippers, and began to live over again that magic night when my daughter herself had been born, a tender reflection that is now mine alone and of which, even at this garrulous moment, I cannot bring myself to speak.

Fortune's Hostages

I think I said, didn't I?, that a grandfather's anxieties are somewhat trying.

I keep worrying about the sad condition of the world and hoping it will hold together long enough so that the little chap will grow up to set it right.

But I remember always that he smiled and somehow that smile is very precious to me.

I seem to be obsessed with that smile.

When I sat down to exude this brief commentary, I had intended to write rather imposingly about the quaking of the world that had preceded the young man's arrival into it.

But the smile, like King Charles' head, keeps popping up in the manuscript.

Perhaps it is not altogether strange that in this hazardous business of giving hostages to fortune, even unto the second generation, the smile of a child should seem so infinitely more vast than the mere tremors of a planet.

Hams Run Own Show

Editor, Bulletin—May I be permitted to correct an erroneous impression which may be held by the readers of your paper as a result of the article which appeared in Friday's edition regarding the part played by amateur radio operators in cases of emergency such as floods, etc.

It was stated in the article, quote: "Amateur radio operators, working under RCAF supervision have consistently rendered invaluable aid in times of emergency and disaster."

I hasten to point out Mr. Editor, that at no time, to my knowledge, have the amateurs worked under RCAF supervision.

We have throughout Canada and the United States our own organization, the American Radio Relay League, and it is through the Emergency Co-ordinators of this organization in each district that valuable assistance has been, and will continue to be rendered whenever the necessity may arise. Any assistance which the RCAF may be able to give us will I assure you be greatly appreciated. We have, I think, proven in the past that we are quite capable of running our own show which has not been under the supervision of the RCAF.

Weather Forecasts

Editor, Bulletin—For the past days the weatherman got a few digs in the ribs. It seems that such small percentage of error should not call forth an undue amount of criticism. For weather reporting and forecasting for a country as large as Canada is a big job and a difficult one.

Marked changes in weather are usually foreseen and predicted accurately, and cold waves, once developed, are foretold in their progress from place to place, with accurate forecasts and warnings.

Sometimes, however, the forecaster sees the beginnings of what may be later a storm, cold wave, or severe weather conditions, and for the moment no one can be sure whether it will actually develop into something of a severe nature or will eventually be nothing more than a mild change in the weather.

He must wait an hour or more, possibly as much as six hours, to get another picture of the weather in that section.

Sudden changes or developments take place at night and other times when it is not easy to reach the general public with a forecast.

A logical conclusion would be since the weatherman's advices were the best that it was humanly possible to give, they should be accepted and used with that understanding and without question.

WEATHERMAN'S FRIEND.

Religious Education

Editor, Bulletin—I don't think the public should be misled by reading some of the statements of Mrs. Currie in a letter published in Monday's Bulletin.

One of them is that "public teachers agree that religion should be taught by parents."

Suppose the parents are not religious. What then? Must the child suffer?

Then she goes on to say there should be enough churches to look after the religious part of it.

Now I ask do all children and parents go to church?

And if they did one day in seven is not much.

We are grateful to those people young and old who do their best on Sunday in the Sunday school but it is a poor world if the rest of the week is centred on material things alone.

To my mind there is no excuse valid for not teaching religion and learning the Bible in our public schools. Without it we have a poor education for the battle of life and a worthwhile nation for the future.

It is a sad thing to see a child grow up in ignorance of God's word—the Bible. The loss is greater than we can estimate.

American Politics

Editor, Bulletin.—This reader was impressed with the views set forth in The Bulletin's editorial reactions to the so-called political "miracle" in the United States on Nov. 2. In my humble judgment you administer an appropriate chastisement to "all three major political parties in Canada" who "claim to have derived warm satisfaction from the re-election of President Truman in the United States." I concur in your conclusion that "The political acumen of all three Canadian parties acquires no prestige from this plainly distorted reasoning."

To this mere man-in-the-street, the Nov. 2 upset (i.e. from the angle of the political experts and the pollsters) had a minimum to do with partisan politics and, conversely, a maximum relationship to farm revenues and the aims of organized urban workers?

As you know, the presidents of the four major general farm organizations in the United States last summer had cabled from Paris—where they were attending a conference of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers — asking President Truman to endeavor to have the international wheat agreement ratified by the Senate. Speaking at St. Paul, during the electoral battle, Mr. Truman sent this challenging reference to the Republicans to the four winds: "They crippled our reciprocal trade program, and killed our international wheat agreement. . . ." (Oct. 16).

Then, too, about a month earlier, in a broadcast at Akron, Ohio, at Labor Day mass meeting, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, dealt realistically with the Taft-Hartley Act, and asserted forthrightly: "The responsibility rests upon the workers and the voters of America. You have the previous political power to vote the 80th Congress out of office. You must use that power. . . ."

Taxation Protest

Editor, Bulletin — We were much enthused and delighted by the size of the type and the space allotted, publicizing the tax menace in the village of Lac La Biche.

We feel that you have helped us to a great degree in setting the matter before the minister in a manner which he can no longer ignore.

We are continuing with our protest meetings, the next one being scheduled for Dec. 15th. At our recent meeting of Dec. 1st, I was instructed by the village taxpayers as a body to convey to you our deep appreciation for the help you have given us.

From Today's News

By Dewitt Mackenzie

The most far-reaching declaration of human rights ever devised has been completed by the United Nations social committee after 2½ years of diligent labor and is ready for consideration by the general assembly.

The 31 articles in this historic document are calculated to encompass all the dream of the centuries for the well-being of mankind. Because of this the highest significance attaches to the fact that Russia and her satellites bitterly opposed the declaration, which includes such articles as these:

Everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person—to freedom of thought, conscience and religion—to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media regardless of frontiers.

Everyone has the right to a nationality—to take part in the government of his country—to a standard of living adequate for the health and well-being of himself and family—to a social and international order in which the rights and freedoms set forth in the declaration can be fully realized. All human beings are born free and equal, in dignity and rights.

When the document finally was completed and came before the 58-member social committee for approval, the Soviet bloc declared it was unsatisfactory. They claimed it violated sovereign rights and failed to include a condemnation of Fascism. However, the declaration was adopted 26 to 6 and now goes to the general assembly.

It isn't difficult to understand, of course, why they should turn thumbs down on the declaration. It is the antithesis of everything that Communism stands for.

Under the Red ism man is merely a pawn of the Communist high command. The only right he he has is to sing in unison with the other stooges. Communism couldn't exist under any such code as is projetced by the declaration of rights.

The Soviet demand for a condemnation of "Fascism" isn't surprising, especially when we take into consideration the Moscow definition of the term.

What a lot of folk don't realize is that Moscow has extended the use of "Fascist" to apply to any government, organization or even individual opposing Communism.

Smiles

At the peak of the rush hour the surging crowd watched a subway train crawl into the station. Near the head of one lane of passengers stood a slight, mild-looking man. Aware that the approaching express was not his train, he looked desperately about for a way to escape. But the stampede had begun. The bewildered little man was swept off his feet, carried backward into the train—his arms flailing the air. A burly guard looked on with disgust.

"Toin around and walk in like a man," growled the Man of Authority. "Do ya hafta be helped in?"

He was a briefless lawyer, trying his best to look busy and prosperous, but it was a fatiguing process and at last he gave it up and went out to the club leaving a notice on the door:

"Back in an hour."

When he returned he was pained to find that someone had added a footnote:

"Whatever for?"

Today's Text

Lawlessness Chief Cause Behind Our New Critical Era

A reader baits his hook so nicely that I think I'll bite. Thus:

"We constantly read about 'critical times.' But in reading history of the past we notice they also seemed to be encompassed by 'critical times.' It seems that 'critical times' are created by innumerable critics who create a scare-complex . . .

"The man who works hard, obeys the law, and minds his own business as a rule finds nothing 'critical' about his times.

"Your comments seem to make more sense than most. Do you regard these times as more critical than others, and if there is any impending disaster, what is the nature of it?"

Let me answer the last first.

I do not believe there is any impending disaster for humanity—but rather a vast change for the better. But I do believe we are now in the very "valley of decision" which will soon shape history for a long time to come.

Chief Causes

There are two main causes of these truly "critical times." The first, and by far the more important literally, is lawlessness, the lack of law above that of the 69 odd sovereign nations who still have the legal power to go to war whenever they choose—and who may legally compel any or all of their subjects to commit mass murder against citizens of other lands.

The second is that the swift advance of applied science has created economic and social problems which cannot easily or satisfactorily be settled within the framework of the past economic system and no country has yet succeeded in replacing the old system without compounding the convulsions which already rack the body of humanity.

It is true that history plainly shows that somebody or other was always warning of impending doom. Mostly the pessimists were wrong. But often they were right—such as when Jesus Himself warned Jerusalem of its total destruction by Rome, or when Noah warned of the flood.

In this century we have fought two wars in which we have killed and maimed more people and destroyed more property than in all the destruction of all previous wars put together.

We are increasingly engaged in an armament race, and there is no case that I can find in history where such an armament race led to anything but more war.

Man No Different

Man is not much different morally than when David killed Goliath. But one man could now shoot in a single rocket enough explosive to wipe out a whole city.

But there are few people too stupid not to see that you can't have both guns and butter, you can't make tractors to plow fields and produce abundant food if you use those tractor factories to make tanks.

With the energy wasted on World War II we could have given every family a free home, equipped with everything necessary for a decent life. We could have taught every human being on earth to read and write in his own language.

And we could have done all that without vain, vicious-circle arguments about "isms."

But we can never do that until we realize that it is not enough to "mind our own business." The people who took that attitude became the perfect "yes men" for Hitler.

There is nothing so much "our business" as to get world law to compel peace between nations, and to divert for human welfare the effort and energy now wasted on war and preparation for war.

Tragic Episode Of Pig and Piper's Son

From the Toronto Globe and Mail

Since the courtiers of King Canute induced him to try to sweep back the tide, the great king's failure has not deterred many another from attempting the same feat. The latest effort is by the Education Welfare Society of Manchester, England, which has told the British Minister of Education that "the traditional nursery rhymes are too cruel for innocent children to learn". The society proposes a sort of parody of the charming old rhymes which have been corrupting our infants.

It is possible that a passing qualm has touched the mind of many a parent intoning the saga of Tom, the Piper's Son. It not only violated the commandment against stealing, but, being slightly ungrammatical, introduced the young mind betimes to the vagaries of poetic licence.

Tom, Tom, the piper's son,
Stole a pig and away he run.

But since retribution was not long in catching up with the bad little boy, there was a sort of acceptance of the matter, considering the quaint tradition of the thing. Thanks to the Education Welfare people, however, all this is so unnecessary. The alterations are the acme of simplicity, and the effect beggars description.

Tom, Tom, the piper's son,
Takes the neighbor's dog for a daily run;
They look so sweet, it is a treat
To watch them running down the street.

We cannot imagine what the British Minister of Education could do about this, and the other rhymes similarly treated, even if he tried. Anything more futile than attempting to rewrite these curious old verses would be most difficult to find. Before the work would be worth doing, the main thesis — that they introduced cruelty and crime to the impressionable mind of childhood—would have to be proved. Nobody who knows children would agree with that for a second. It need only be asked what explains the behavior of all the children who are not taught these English nursery rhymes, to realize the silliness of the proposal.

If the rhymes inculcated cruelty, how did English pacifism and humanitarianism, the most courageous and sympathetic in the world, find expression? What made the British people the most law-abiding in the world, if the verses taught crime?

Most children are cruel, and have to be taught kindness as part of the training of civilized life. They are not cruel by intent, of course, because they have not had time to become subtle in their responses and enjoyments. They are cruel, like the cat which worries the mouse, unconsciously playing with a living object they do not understand. Besides, there is a lot to learn about this strange universe. Every one wants to know whether a cat's head will unscrew. Turn it and see! Every one wants to know what will happen if a pin is stuck in baby brother's arm. Every one finds out that biting one's own toe starts a reaction amazing to contemplate. These things are not sins; they are the progress of knowledge.

Cruelty there is in the world, and the annals of crime are filled with man's inhumanity to man. But nursery rhymes are the least of the influences which work themselves out in unsocial behavior. Let us keep Little Jack Horner, Humpty Dumpty, Baby Bunting and the rest as long as we can. We have lost so many of the innocent joys of childhood in this practical and unpoetic age that we should hold fast to those which survive. Perhaps the Golden Age will come back again, and we will need to know the language.

South Gas Reserve Set by Geologist

351 Billion Cubic Feet In Four Alberta Fields

CALGARY, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Natural gas reserves in four fields in southeastern Alberta were estimated at 351,000,000,000 cubic feet recoverable to 100 lbs. a square inch abandonment pressure, by Dr. H. R. Beach, chief geologist, McColl-Frontenac Oil Co. Ltd., when he testified Wednesday before the Alberta Natural Gas Commission. The body is collecting data regarding potential reserves of gas.

STEPPING OUT around palace grounds at Soestdijk, Holland, is Princess Marijke, youngest daughter of Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard of The Netherlands. Little princess will be two in February.

Dr. Beach said early drilling in the Pakowki Lake region had been for oil but more recently the finding of gas had been the primary consideration. A total of 44 wells had been drilled "and four apparently distinct natural gas fields," had been discovered.

He named the fields and estimated reserves of gas as follows:

Pendant D'Oreille, 260,000,000,000; Manyberries 49,000,000,000; Smith Coulee 6,000,000,000 and Black Butte 36,000,000,000, a total of 351,000,000,000 cubic feet. He said "it is believed that the prospect of finding new fields by additional drilling within the block are encouraging."

PINCHER CREEK

Canadian-Gulf Oil Co., Ltd., said that based on information obtained from Pincher Creek No. 1 well, it was estimated there was a gas reserve of 75,000,000,000 square feet in the one square mile area surrounding the well. "Whether productive area will underlie one or more sections remains to be determined."

Shell Oil Co. of Canada, Ltd., said gas had been found in quantity at Jumping Pound but as the development had not proceeded beyond the discovery well and three subsequent wells it would not be in the interests of the Commission or the Company to attempt to estimate the gas reserves.

All data on the four wells was supplied to the Commission by the Company.

Alberta Power Shortage Seen

HANNA, Alta., Dec. 9.—(CP)—The Alberta government's top priority power project at present is the Red Deer River Dam near Stettler, Alta., Municipal Affairs Minister C. E. Gerhart said yesterday

In an address before the annual meeting of the East Central Irrigation Association, Mr. Gerhart said Alberta's industrial expansion threatens to create a serious power shortage in the province within a year. The Red Deer River project was being given top priority as a means to relieve the shortage threat.

E. L. Gray of Regina, director of water resources for the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Association, said all preliminary engineering work in connection with the project had been completed. Construction could start the moment the senior governments gave the go-ahead signal.

Besides serving as a power source, the project involves a major irrigation scheme. It is proposed to carry the water from Stettler to Coronation, Alta., and then distribute it over 500,000 acres from Hanna south to the Red Deer River and east to the Saskatchewan border.

Egyptian Terror Group Dissolved

CAIRO, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Prime Minister Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy Pasha last night ordered the Moslem Brotherhood Association dissolved and all its branches in Egypt closed. Government officials have charged the brotherhood, a Nationalist group, with responsibility in recent violence which has caused several deaths.

Australian Wheat Unsuitable Here

WINNIPEG, Dec. 9.—(CP)—A new variety of wheat discovered by Australian agronomists may prove valuable for plant breeding purposes but is not likely to fit into Canadian conditions, Dr. R. F. Peterson of the Dominion Laboratory of Cereal Breeding said Wednesday.

He was commenting on a Sydney dispatch saying the new varfrom a chance discovery made by Dr. Stephen L. Masindoe, principal research agronomist at New South Wales' department of agriculture, will, it is hoped, save Australian farmers millions of dollars lost yearly through cold and dust disease.

The dispatch said the new wheat's big advantages to farmers will be that it can be sown early in the fall without danger of cold damage and will produce more pasturage for stock.

Dr. Peterson said samples of Australian varieties had been tested previously by the Winnipeg laboratory. Largely because the Canadian and Australian winters differed so greatly, the Australian strains had been found unsuitable for commercial use in Canada.

Child 'Snatched' From Calgarian

CALGARY, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Robert Dyler of Calgary told police that two men snatched his two-year-old child from him on a city street and assaulted him.

Dyler said the men drove away with the child after attacking him. He claimed the "snatching" was arranged by his wife from whom he is estranged.

Police said they had issued summonses against Leonard Shaw of Midnapore, Alta., and Kinneard Lynn of Calgary in connection with the case. The two men will appear in police court next Monday on charges of assault.

Child welfare authorities said they were investigating the case.

Canada Hospital Gives U.S. Girl Heart Cure

By Betty Heineman

COATESVILLE, Pa., Dec. 8.—(BUP)—Only three short weeks ago she was dying of a rheumatic heart ailment, but today there was a bright new future for nine-year-old Hope Hickey.

"It's like a miracle. We can't quite believe it yet," said her father, Edward Hickey, beaming happily. "Three weeks ago, the doctors gave her a year to live. Now they say with good care there's every chance she may live a normal life."

A quiet unassuming factory office manager, Hickey, was jubilant when he left for Canada last night to bring his frail daughter home. She is in a Canadian hospital where doctors report she has made "remarkable progress" from vitamin "E" treatments.

Hickey took the desperately ill child to the Shute Foundation for Medical Research at London, Ont., after appealing publicly for any help which might prolong his daughter's life.

He said then that if it was too late to help her, he wanted to offer his daughter for any treatment or operation which might aid medical science in its fight against the disease.

The response was overwhelming.

GOT 3,000 NOTES

More than 3,000 letters poured into the Hickeys' red brick house in nearby rural Pomeroy. People from all over the country—and some from as far away as Ireland—offered suggestions and prayers

Many of the letters included magazine clippings describing the work of the Shute Foundation. A priest, hospitalized in Baltimore, wrote of his remarkable improvement under the Vitamin E treatment. It has not been officially recognized by the American Medical Association, but is being used by thousands of doctors in this country for sufferers of heart and circulatory ailments.

DER BINGLE'S VIDEO DEBUT

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(BUP) A spokesman for the Philco Television Playhouse said, yesterday that Bing Crosby will make his television debut Sunday, Dec. 19 (over NBC). Crosby will appear in Dickens' "A Christmas Carol."

Convict Gets Further Term

KINGSTON, Ont., Dec. 9.—(CP)—For stabbing two prison guards and assaulting another, Patrick McKenzie, 32-year-old penitentiary convict from Toronto, yesterday was sentenced to three concurrent two-year terms.

Mr. Justice W. S. Lane told McKenzie, who called himself the "most-strapped prisoner" in Kingston penitentiary, that he would "ultimately be charged with murder" unless he could control his temper.

The sentences McKenzie received yesterday will run consecutive with the six-year term he is serving on theft and wounding charges

The sessions court jury deliberated 25 minutes before convicting McKenzie of stabbing guards J. R. Hodgson and H. E. Goodfriend Nov. 4 with a home-made knife and of beating guard L. M. Stanley Oct. 5. He was acquitted of a charge of assaulting guard G. M. Kemp June 20.

Canada's Butter, Milk Situation Declared 'Scandal'

BROOKS, Dec. 9.—(CP)—A. L. Smith, member of parliament for Calgary West, charged at a Progressive-Conservative meeting yesterday that Canada's milk and butter situation is a "national scandal."

Mr. Smith said the Dominion was faced with "possible ruination of the dairy industry, due to the export of dairy cattle." He blamed the federal tax on producers of milk and low prices received for milk production due to butter ceiling prices, for the decline in Canada's dairy herds.

More than 96,000 head of dairy cattle were exported to the United States to date this year, Mr. Smith said. This was more than twice the number exported in 1947.

Sugar-Beet Crop Cheques In Mail

LETHBRIDGE, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Christmas shoppers in southern Alberta today are spending part of $180,000 which went into circulation earlier this week.

Cheques totalling $10 a ton on 18,000 tons of south Alberta-grown beets raised in the 1948 crop year, went into the mails at Raymond Monday from Canadian Sugar Factories, Ltd.

Mailed to growers in the beet-growing area, the amount represented final initial payment on this year's beets. Previously, cheques totalling more than $1,000,000 were sent out. Total beet tonnage this year was 324,000 tons.

MLA Is Injured In Miners' Scuffle

Strikebound Mine Near Estevan Produces Battle

ESTEVAN, Sask., Dec. 9.—(CP) — Quiet prevailed today at the strike-bound property of the Western Dominion Company coal mine at nearby Roche Percee following a scuffle in which a Liberal member of the legislature was injured.

The strike which started Nov. 3 with miners seeking wage increases from sev.n operators, moved into a new stage with the fracas involving Edward McCormack, member for Estevan Bienfait.

The company plans to seek an anti-picketing injunction against members of the United Mine Workers of America. Coal miners who are members of the rival Saskatchewan Coal Mners' Ur'on will not be called upon to work at the Western Dominion mine until the injunction is served.

GETS UMWA MEN

SCMU controls employes at Western Dominion, largest producer in the district. This union announced earlier in the week it had weaned away about 25 members of the UMWA and had signed an agreement with the Roche Percee mine.

About 25 strikers and 10 wives were reported yesterday to have made their way to company buildings where McCormack and about 10 SCMU men were talking. The marchers were said to have asked McCormack why he did not remain neutral since he was an elected representative of the people. Then, it was reported, McCormack was beaten and scratched and told to drive away in his car.

The SCMU is reported to have filed affidavits naming those of the rival union involved in the tussle. McCormack's injuries were not serious, it was understood, and the scuffling and arguments which followed his departure by car did not produce any serious injuries.

SEEK WELFARE FUND

Apart from wage boos.s of about 20 cents an hour, the UMWA coal miners—about 200 strong—struck for a welfare fund increase and a 40-hour work week instead of 44. Talks in Regina yesterday involving representatives of the operators, UMWA, and the government produced no pronounced developments.

Nfld. Signing Due Saturday

OTTAWA, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Defence Minister Claxton announced last night that the terms of union between Canada and Newfoundland will be signed Saturday morning in the Senate chamber.

The historic ceremony will be broadcast over the National network of the CBC and carried over a radio network in Newfoundland.

Details of the agreement, subject of negotiations between the Dominion and the colony for several months, will be made public at the time of the signing ceremony.

Terms of union to bring the 400-year-old colony into Confederation as Canada's 10th province were completed late yesterday at a session presided over by Mr. Claxton, deputy chairman of the cabinet committee of Newfoundland.

His announcement of the signing ceremony was made jointly with Hon. A. J. Walsh, chairman of the Newfoundland delegation.

Ex-Prairie Jobless Blamed In Holdups

VANCOUVER, Dec. 9—(CP)—Police charged today young, unemployed men from the prairies and eastern Canada are responsible for the current wave of holdups here.

They said a large number of such young men enter the city each month and are sustaining the series of robberies.

Police have been scouring known underworld haunts and questioning suspects since the robbery wave first began, but with little success.

WOMAN THREW BOILING WATER ON DOG, CHARGE

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Nigger, a four-months-old pup, was the main court exhibit yesterday against Mrs. Elizabeth Lenahan, charged with ill-treating the dog "by throwing boiling water containing fat" over him.

Mrs. Lenahan admitted throwing the water, but said it was because Nigger had stolen her own dog's bones.

Nigger was half-naked yesterday, one side almost bare of hair.

His master, Arthur Foster, said that one ear was burned raw.

The case was adjourned until Dec. 15.

'48 Stampede Big Success

CALGARY, Dec. 9.—(CP)—The Calgary Exhibition and Stampede Ltd., ended its 1948 season with a net income for operations of $150,797, the second highest in the company's history, the 63rd annual report showed yesterday.

The report given at a meeting of 100 shareholders of the company showed that only 1946's surplus of $152,149 outdid this year's activities.

A. H. McGuire, president, said improvements would be made next year in the grandstand seating with new bleachers being constructed at the east end of the grandstand in front of the pari-mutuel plant.

He said that "circumstances forced the temporary postponement, but not the abandonment of plans for the construction of the proposed new arena and we hope to be able to proceed with this project in the very near future."

"The 1948 Calgary exhibition and Stampede was the most successful in our history, " Mr. McGuire said. The all-time attendance record of 376,983 people was set up.

Theatre, Sport Stars Welcome Barbara To N.Y.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(CP)—New York theatre and sports circles welcomed Barbara Ann Scott yesterday at a special luncheon in her honor.

Attended by more than 100 sports stars, entertainment stars and executives and newspaper and magazine writers, the luncheon precedes by two weeks the Ottawa skater's world premiere in the professional entertainment world.

The pretty, 20-year-old world and Olympic champion thanked the gathering in a short impromptu speech in which she said that since she arrived in New York Monday she felt "just as if I were at home."

BRIDGE

Using Safety Play Usually Pays Off

By William E. McKenney

One of these days, I am going to get our surgeon-general, Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, into a bridge game. Dr. Scheele has been very helpful to me in various child welfare activities, especially in the fight against cancer in children. But he is always too busy to take time out for a bridge game.

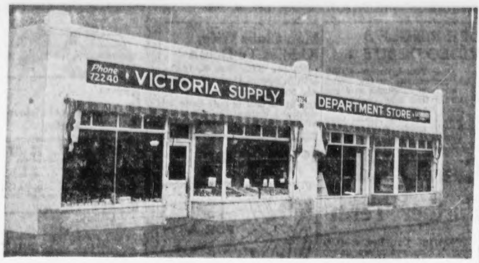
Dr. Scheele asked me which is more important in bridge, the bidding or the play. I then asked him which was more important in his profession, medication or surgery. Of course, he sidestepped that issue.

"Naturally," he said, "it all depends upon the case." And the same thing is true in bridge." I said. "Many a fine bridge hand dies on the table because of a careless play."

That is why I have selected today's hand as our lesson hand. The bidding follows a normal course, and West's opening lead must be the king of diamonds. East makes a nice play when he overtakes it with the ace and immediately returns the six of diamonds. West wins this trick with the queen and lays down the 10 of diamonds.

Now, a careless declarer would trump this in dummy with the 10 of spades, East would overtrump with the jack, and South still would have to lose a club trick. But a careful declarer will make a safety play. Instead of trumping the 10 of diamonds in dummy, he will simply discard dummy's losing deuce of clubs.

There is nothing East can do then. If he trumps, that is the last trick the defenders will make. If he does not trump. West will hold the trick, and if he continues a diamond, declarer will be able to overtrump anything that East trumps with.



ENLARGED AND RENOVATED is the Victoria Supply and Department Store, 12734-36 Fort Road, which officially opens for business tomorrow. The improvement program necessitated by the increased business, has resulted in the premises being doubled in size and the stock supply has been tripled.

Victoria Department Store Opens New Wing Tomorrow

The North Edmonton business place has been doubled in size and remodelled.

Premises which formerly housed the grocery department and dry goods stock combined have been converted into a groceteria, and the merchandise increased three fold.

POPULATION GROWS

"Increased business brought about by the growing population of the community has necessitated our improvement program," said Aldred Simovitch, manager of the department.

"We will, however, in addition to our new self-serve section, continue to operate our grocery service and as in the past any reasonable order will be delivered to any part of the city," he added.

The interior of the premises has been renovated and modern appliances and fixtures have been installed. The increased space allows for a large grocerteria section in addition to the grocery and meat market department, and the management claims that their stock "is as large as any store of our size in the city."

DRY GOODS SECTION

A dry goods section, stocking a complete line of men's, women's and children's wearing apparel, boots and shoes, giftware, appliances and all goods usually carried in such a general store. is housed in the new wing, which is modern in every manner.

Owned and operated by S. A. Simovitch and his sons, the store was first purchased four years ago. Simovitch, who has operated his own business in the province for 25 years, sold his interest in Round Hill, Alberta, to complete the North Edmonton deal.

"It was a smart move," said Alfred Simovitch, eldest son of the veteran merchant. "Business has been great and to compete with volume done we had to increase in size. Even though our store has been doubled, it will no more than cope with the situation," he concluded.

The store employs a staff of four in addition to the family, these being A. Simons, M. Simons, Jeanne Waghill and Theresse Waghill.

Decision Expected Within Month On CPA Application

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—(CP)—The Civilian Aeronautics Board said yesterday a decision is expected "within a month" on an epplication by Canadian Pacific Airlines for permission to fly between Whitehorse, N.W.T., and Fairbanks, Alaska.

A spokesman said a CAB examiner has recommended approval of Canadian Pacific's request for a foreign carrier permit. If the board acts on that suggestion the application will go to President Truman for signature.

"Canadian Pacific's application will likely move faster than the ordinary domestic case," the spokesman said. "No objections have been filed and, if there are none, you can expect a decision in a hurry, probably within a month."

Canadian Pacific Airlines have been flying passengers and express between Whitehorse and Fairbanks under a Trans-Canada Air Lines license since 1944.

Recently TCA gave up rights to fly the route. Application of CPA was then made to Canadian and United States civil aviation authorities.

Transport Law Repeal Is Urged

REGINA, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Repeal of United States laws prohibiting transport of American goods across Canada was urged yesterday by Senator Norman Walker of the territorial senate of Alaska.

Sen. Walker said here in an interview the prohibitions were discriminatory against Alaska and hindered Alaskan trade.

Shipments originating in the States cannot now be moved across Canada nor can Canadian ships carry to Alaska merchandise that originates in the United States

Vegreville Hospital Rates Will Be Raised

VEGREVILLE, Dec. 9.—As a result of a meeting between the advisory board of the Vegreville General Hospital and the Superior of the Sisters of Charity, notice has gone forward to the Vegreville Municipal Hospital District that the existing contract for the hospitalization of rate-payers of the district cannot be continued in its present form after the close of the year.

The General hospital, which is a 100-bed institution with a nurses' training school in connection has been giving ratepayers hospitalization for a fee of $2.50 per day of which $1.00 is payable by the patient and $1.50 by the Municipal Hospital District. Certain medicines and reduced rates for X-ray and similar treatments are included.

One and one-half mills on the taxes of the contributing municipalities was the levy for hospital purposes. This is said to be incomparably the lowest hospital tax rate in the province notwithstanding the fact that the Vegreville hospital is rated A-1 by the American College of Physicians and Surgeons.

A statement prepared by the hospital's auditors, Winspear, Hamilton & Co. of Edmonton, indicating a serious operating loss for the first six months of the year, is responsible for the action just taken.

Members of the advisory committee who recommended termination of the present contract, are C. B. McClure, J. N. Decore, M. J. Zenko, H. Olyan and J. Fitzallen.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Red Cross Branch Submits Reports

WETASKIWIN, Dec. 9.—The Wetaskiwin branch of the Canadian Red Cross held its annual meeting on Monday evening in the civic offices, and President H. J. Montgomery was re-elected head of the organization.

Treasurers report was submitted by T. H. J. Grierson and showed the branch to be in a healthy condition financially. Other committee reports dealt with the work accomplished by the branch during the past year and were considered satisfactory. The blood donors committee particularly indicated a vast amount of work with satisfactory results.

In addition to re-election of the president, other officers elected were first vice-president, Rev. R. D. Binning; second vice-president, R. W. Manley, K.C.; third vice-president, J. W. Montgomery; treasurer, T. H. J. Grierson; secretary, C. H. Russell, K. C.

A women's committee was elected as follows: Mesdames Mikkelson, Stanley, Braden, Palfrey, Yule, Cowell, Neilson, Rasmuson, Chaffee, Newby. These together with the officers form the executive and added to these are representatives from other organizations in the city.

The secretary, Mr. Russell, has asked that all of these organizations make their nominations soon and submit the names of the individuals. Thomas Palfrey was re-appointed chairman of the Public Relations committee.

Consort Choir To Visit Veteran

VETERAN, Dec, 9.—There is a treat in store for music lovers in the near future when the choir of the United Church, Consort, will present the Christian Cantata here.

Regular meeting of the CGIT was held at the home of Miss Dorothy Olsen. Final arrangements were made for the candle-light service which will take place in the United Church Sunday evening Dec. 19.

Wetaskiwin Skating Club Engages Pros

Wetaskiwin, Dec. 9—Services of Bob George and Mrs. Bunty Soley have been engaged by the Wetaskiwin Skating Club for the 1948-49 season. This was decided at a meeting held on Sunday evening by the club, the main object of which was to define their duties.

Seab Perry, president of the club, advises that all ages and all groups would receive adequate instruction.

The membership committee consisting of Mrs. Dave Bunnin, Mrs. Chabelon, Miss Joyce Pearson and A. Arner have commenced a membership campaign, and memberships for children may also be obtained.

The club is hoping to sign up a number of Associate members at $2 per membership. This will give parents and others interested in skating an interest in the club and will entitle them to skate at any of the club's private outdoor rinks, which will soon be ready for use.

With two good instructors giving lessons in the Arena once a week, their own private rink for practise and free skating and a lively interest in the club throughout the city and district, the executive looks forward to a most successful season.

It's simple to keep the house clean with a G-E VACUUM CLEANER ($84.50.) It gets surface dust, dirt and grit. Or you may prefer the powerful suction of a G-E TANK-TYPE CLEANER ($94.50.) There's a fine range of G-E ELECTRIC CLOCKS. ($5.95 to $81.00, tax extra.)

For the most marvellous night's sleep of your life you'll need a G-E AUTOMATIC BLANKET ($42.50 to $54.50.)Luxurious warmth on the coldest night—without weight. And in the morning, wake-up-to-music with a G-E CLOCK RADIO ($49.95 to $52.50.)

Every housewife dreams of having a modern all-electric home. She knows the recipe for happier living is to have precious leisure hours each day free from household cares.

That's what happens when you have G-E Appliances. With a G-E RANGE ($198 to $369) delicious meals cook themselves. The famous Hi-Speed Swing-type Calrod elements make for greater economy, speed and durability.

A G-E REFRIGERATOR ($299.50 to $359.50) protects the family's health and saves money by allowing food buying in quantities. The G-E FEATHERWEIGHT IRON ($12.95) cuts ironing time by a third. You iron faster because it's lighter and because it has a bigger sole-plate. The G-E KETTLE ($14.50) is the fastest way of boiling water in the home because the Calrod element is totally immersed in the water. Holds four pints. And then you'll want a G-E TOASTER ($9.95 to $14.95) . . . and a coffee-maker . . . but there's not enough room to list them all. Best thing is to see your G-E dealer.

Right in your neighbourhood there's a friendly G-E dealer—the local headquarters for modern electrical living. Ask him to demonstrate the dollar-saving advantages of G-E Appliances. Talk over with him future plans for an all-electric home.

Grant, McDonald Shine As Stamps Drub Quakers

EZZARD CHARLES
. . . Doesn't want to KO Louis.

SASKATOON, Dec. 9.—Calgary Stampeders thumped the hapless Saskatoon Quakers 6-3 here last night to climb back into third-place tie with Lethbridge Maple Leafs in the Western Canada Hockey league standings. Quakers have won only three games this season and are mired deep in the league cellar.

Paced by smooth Byron (Butch) McDonald and shifty Dunc Grant, Stampeders spotted Quakers a 1-0 lead in the opening period but roared back in the remaining sessions to outscore their opponents 6-2.

Grant, the league's top point getter, sniped two goals and picked up a like number of assists, while McDonald broke loose with four assists. Other Calgary scorers were Bob Ballance, Archie Wilder, Denny Huddleston and Bud Emery. Saskatoon marksmen were Mike Yaschuk, Eddie Leier and Les Strongman.

The clubs were skating at a terrific clip when Yaschuk finished off a passing play with linemates Dave Livingston and Strongman to give Saskatoon a 1-0 lead midway through the first period.

CHILLY RECEPTION

The 2,000 home-town fans, who had braved 20-below-zero weather and a bitter 40 mile and hour wind to attend the game, froze in their seats as Stampeders took over in the remaining two periods. Grant tied the score on passes from Wilder and Butch McDonald at 13:20 in the second period and Ballance sent Calgary ahead a few minutes later.

Stampeders increased their lead to 3-1 at the 5:50 mark in the third period when Wilder blasted in a pass from Bob Brownridge. Quakers threatened for the last time in the game when Leier's goal cut the margin to 3-2.

But Calgary came right back with Huddleston beating goalie Johnny Sofiak on a slap screen shot to make it 4-2 at the halfway mark. Goals then came thick and fast as Stamps added two more to Quaker' one. Grant got his second on a pass from McDonald and then Emery finished off a three-way passing play with McDonald and Grant. Strongman took Dave Livingston's pass to beat netminder Russ Dertell for Saskatoon's last goal.

LINEUPS:

Calgary—Dertell; Huddleston, Millman; Ballance; Culley, Brownridge. Subs: Emery, Dame, McDonald, Wilder, Grant, Milliard, Scott, Devicq.

Saskatoon—Sofiak; Fischer, Johnson; Livingston; Strongman, Yaschuk. Subs: Bentley, Leier, Stevens, O'Hara, Kreklewetz, Reardon, Fenn, Gray.

Officials—Stan Swain and Chick Little.

SUMMARY:

First Period: Saskatoon, Yaschuk (Livingston, Strongman) 10:35.
Penalty: Fischer.

Second Period: Calgary, Grant (Wilder, McDonald) 13:20; Calgary, Ballance (Huddleston) 17:25.
Penalties: Emery, Leier, Milliard.

Third Period: Calgary, Wilder (Brownridge) 5:50; Saskatoon, Leier (Stevens) 8:31; Calgary, Huddleston (Grant, McDonald) 10:10; Calgary, Grant (McDonald) 16:30; Saskatoon, Strongman (Livingston) 17:10; Calgary, Emery (McDonald, Grant) 17:45.
Penalties: Huddleston.

Charles Has No Yen To Whip Joe Louis

By Oscar Fraley

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(BUP)—Ezzard Charles sat on a battered couch in a Harlem gymnasium, slowly taping the brown fists which elevated him from a pawn shop porter to heavyweight challenger, and mumbled that he "don't like to think about fighting Joe Louis."

"I wouldn't want to be the one to knockout Joe Louis," said the broad shouldered young Charles who looks large among the pretenders to the throne. "Somebody might but it would make me sad to do it. Joe will always be the champion to us folks."

It was a quiet statement of fact from the hard-hitting Negro who meets Joe Baksi in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

THERE'S AN IF TO IT

"But if we win good," interrupted manager Jake Mintz, a broken-nosed, pale-eyed little man, "we will claim the heavyweight title unless Louis gives us a shot. If he does, we'll give him back the title and fight for it."

That sounds slightly generous of Monsieur Mintz. But Jake is working on the theory that Louis named Charles as the best heavyweight around—and has expressed a desire not to be forced into a meeting with the tigerish young man who punches like two tons of bricks.

The Charles camp doesn't believe Louis ever will give them a shot. And Mintz screamed, as Ezzard continued to wrap his hands, that Charles is the only logical man after knocking out such king-sized clouters as Elmer Ray, Jimmy Bivins and Archie Moore.

BLACKOUT BOY

Ezzard just kept on chewing gum and kneading his hands as Mintz states his case. And the musical "Blackout Boy," who plays the fiddle and the saxophone, hummed a tune as he climbed into ring gear.

I don't think how I'll do in any fight before I make it," he answered when asked how he thought he would do against Baksi, and then grinned shyly when questioned as to how he ever started fighting.

"I don't like to talk about that," Ezzard replied. "It sounds funny. But the honest answer is that I made up my mind to be a fighter after reading Dynamite Dunn in that Curly Kayoe comic strip."

Annual 'Rider Confab Sunday

REGINA, Dec. 9—(CP)—Annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Rough Rider football club will be held Sunday in Regina, it was announced Wednesday.

Election of officers for 1949 was scheduled as well as a report of the current year's activities.

It is expected plans for next year's club will be discussed. Riders were eliminated in the Western Canada Football conference finals last month by Calgary Stampeders, who went on to win the Dominion championship.

Pittsburgh Swaps Frank Gustine

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Pittsburgh swapped third baseman Frank Gustine and pitcher Cal McLish to Chicago Cubs Wednesday for catcher Clyde McCullough and pitcher Cliff Chambers.

No cash was involved in the trade, which overshadowed all other business at the official opening of Professional Baseball leagues. In these days of inflation, the over-the-counter price on the four players probably would approach $200,000.

Gustine, a 28-year-old Pirate regular and McCullough, who is 31, are the established major leaguers in the deal. Pittsburgh badly needed a first-string catcher with extra-base power and Chicago was so desperate for infield help that outfielder Andy Pafko was drafted to play third base for the 1948 cellar team.

Record Turf Sale

NEWMARKET, ENGLAND, Dec 9.—(AP)—The Sezincote Stud of Gloucestershire paid an English record price for a brood mare Wednesday when it bought Ferry Pool for £18,900 ($75,600).

The seven-year-old horse was sold at the Newmarket Bloodstock sales by R. F. Watson who has steadily reduced his stud farm.

Detroit's Ted Lindsay Has a Dual Personality

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Robert Blake Theodore Lindsay has a dual personality.

Off the ice he's a quiet-spoken, easy-going members of the Detroit Red Wings hockey club. But when the puck is faced off he's a smashing, driving player with a hair-trigger temper.

Ted Lindsay

Ted, as he is more commonly known, is regarded as the mainstay of the Red Wings by practically everyone around the National Hockey league circuit. The drums have been booming him for the Hart trophy, presented annually to the player adjudged the most valuable to his team.

The 23-year-old All-Star left-winger was sidelined with a fracture of a foot bone a month ago and during the time he was benched Wings won only two games, tied one and lost four. Since his return the team has taken three straight victories, two of them on the road.

Lindsay has picked up a reputation for being aggressive and ready to mix it anytime during a game. As a result he's no stranger to the penalty box.

He picks Toronto and Boston Bruins as the hardest teams to beat this season. Maurice (Rocket) Richard is the hardest wing to check in Lindsay's book. Defenceman Johnny Crawford the hardest to fool, and Frankie Brimsek the hardest goalie to beat.

BIG GAIN in the WCHL point race was made by Calgary's Butch McDonald, who snared four assists as Stamps dumped Quakers 6-3 Wednesday night. He now is in a third-place tie with Morey Rimstad of Flyers. Both have 27 points, nine behind leader Dunc Grant.

SPORTS BULLETIN

British Ring Rulers Oppose 'No Foul' Rule

LONDON, Dec. 9. — (BUP) — Britain's boxing rulers Wednesday remained violently opposed to adoption of a "no foul" rule despite the international rumpus raised by the Lee Savold - Bruce Woodcock fight.

The low punch, which disqualified Savold just as he appeared set to knock out Woodcock, ruined Monday night's bout for 10,700 Harringay Arena fans but it only stiffened the dogged attitude of the British Board of Boxing Control.

Waving a red flag in the bull ring produces a minor reaction compared with mentioning a "no foul" rule to Britain's fight controllers. But yesterday's blast by board secretary Charles Donmall would make the Marquis of Queensberry himself sound like a no foul devotee.

STILL A SPORT

"Thank goodness boxing still is a sport in this country and not just a big business racket," Donmall said. "The rules placed a ban on hitting below the belt for good, sound reasons and it is a disgrace to the sport that it should be conceded that there may be times when such a foul may be permitted."

"The question of whether a boxer is hurt by a blow below the belt does not come into it. If the punch is low, the rules disqualify the puncher."

The bespectacled board secretary rasped out his answer to reports from the United States that the foul rule was revived Monday to save the British heavyweight from taking a licking.

"The great majority of British fans always have been against the no foul rule and I believe American fans feel the same," Donmall said. "They brought in the no foul rule in America for purely financial reasons—too many fights were ending unsatisfactorily because of fouls and it was bad for the box office."

PROMOTERS FOR CHANGE

Most British boxing promoters, however, would like to see the introduction of the U. S. ruling, under which a low punch only costs the fighter the round in which he struck the blow unless the foul was clearly intentional.

"It's time we came into line with the Americans," said Jack Solomons, who promoted the Savold-Woodcock fight. "It's ridiculous and foolish to let down a capacity crowd that paid good money to see the fight."

Black Scores In Cleveland Win

BUFFALO, N.Y., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Cleveland Barons handed Buffalo Bisons their first home defeat of the American Hockey league season Wednesday night 4-2 before 8,184 spectators.

Johnny Black, Pete Leswick, Fred Thurier and Roy Kelly were the Cleveland goal-getters. George Agar and Doug Lewis scored for Buffalo.

Pearce, Dowdle Top Cage Point-Getters

Gordon Pearce and Enid Dowdle continue to set the pace in Ladies' and Men's basketball point races, according to official statistics released Wednesday by president Geoff Mortimer.

Pearce, a member of the loop-leading Waterloo Mercurys, is miles ahead in the Senior Men's circuit. He has ruffled the strings for 94 points, 25 more than runner-up Mortimer of RCMP.

John Higgin, who played with Varsity last season, is third in the point parade with 64, while a pair of Mounties, Jim Milne and Roy Girling, follow with 55 and 53, respectively.

The lassies are in a nip-and-tuck race. Miss Dowdle, a member of the Cardston Shooting Stars last season, holds a slim one-point edge over Doris Nufer, Varsity Panda star. The former, acclaimed by local experts as being one of the best women players in Canada, has 35 points.

Wood Rink Defeated In 'Spiel

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, MAN., Dec. 9.—(CP)—An invading rink from Virginia, Minn., skipped by Walter Polski and a foursome from Brandon, Man., skipped by Curly McKay, stood out Wednesday night as the only unbeaten teams in the $15,000 Portage auto bonspiel.

Considered a dark-horse outfit, the McKay rink took the measure of Howard Wood's Winnipeg rink, one of the favored teams in the 'spiel. The score was 8-7 with the outcome in doubt right up to the final rock. McKay managed to stay in front of Wood throughout the match.

Victories scored by Polski, one of the great travellers in the game, and McKay were their sixth of the 'spiel.

Polski, who annually piles up thousands of miles in curling tours that take him to all parts of Canada and the United States, defeated Bill Orr of Franklin, Man., 9-6. It was also Polski's sixth victory, pitting him against McKay in the final of the main event.

Although defeated, the losses did not drop Wood and Orr from the competition for the four late-model cars which are the main prizes in the 'spiel. They qualified for the car play, along with Polski and McKay, simply by reaching the fours in the big event.

ROUND ROBIN

Polski, Wood, McKay and Orr will move into the round robin along with all rinks reaching the fours in the second and third draws. The eights in the second draw have not yet been reached.

The Staples rink from Oakville handed the Frank Wolfe foursome from Edmonton an 11-10 defeat in the third competition.

Ex-City Junior Stars for Spokane

TRAIL, Dec. 9.—(CP)—With the forward string of Johnny Rypien, Hughie Scott and Pat Petrucci connecting for six goals, the league-leading Spokane Flyers Wednesday night trimmed Trail Smoke Eaters 7-4 in a Western International Hockey league match.

The power-packed Flyer sextet who were playing their third game in as many nights led Smokies 2-1 at the end of the first period, increased their margin to 4-2 in the middle chapter, and then iced the tilt with three last-session markers.

Rypien, ex-Edmonton junior, paced the Flyer offensive with three goals and two assists while Scott bagged two counters and Petrucci one goal and two assists. Roy McBride notched Spokane's other counter.

Trail goal getters were Louis Secco, Don Anderson, Terry Cavanagh and Les Christensen.

Local Intermediates Edge Stampeders by 3-1 Count

By Jim McCurdy

PONOKA, Dec. 9.—It was 25 degrees below here last night but there was nothing 'cold' about the Northern Alberta Intermediate Hockey league game between Waterloo Mercurys and Ponoka Stampeders.

Mercurys from Edmonton, really flying over the fast ice, came off with a 3-1 decision in the game played before better than 1,000 fans.

BOB DAVID
. . . Insurance goal.

BOB WATT
. . . Ponoka marksman.

There was little to choose between the two clubs in the first period as the hard-working Mercury line of Don Gauf-Bob David-Bill McQuay came up with the first goal. Gauf did the honors while the other two picked up assists.

Two more Mercury goals slipped past Earl Baker in the Ponoka net in the second session as the capital city aggregation grabbed a more definite edge in territorial play. Harry Allen and David netted in that order for Jimmy Graham's crew.

Stampeders' only counter came at 11:24 of the finale while Edmonton's Red Ryan was sitting out a tripping penalty. Jack Davies, attempting a flip-shot clearance, fanned on the puck and young Bob Watt, used sparingly, nipped in and beat Jack Manson on an angle shot.

ICE CHIPS: There were only two penalties in the game, both to Mercurys and both in the third period. Marsh Darling was handed one for slashing while Ryan's was accidental as he was checking somebody along the boards when the offence occurred.

Mercurys have given up automobile travel to and from their games. Now they travel by chartered bus and the players go for it in a big way. Sponsor Jimmy (Chief) Christensen promises the club will have its own 48-seat bus shortly.

* * *

Ponoka citizens are proud of their new arena and they have every right to be. The 1,600 seat edifice just about equals the population of the town itself and draws fans from Wetaskiwin, Red Deer and other nearby communities.

LINEUPS:

Waterloo—Manson; Davies, Wright; Stanley; Newsome and Darling. Subs: Ryan, Stewart, Allen, Dawe, Dodds, McQuay, David, Gauf.

Ponoka—Baker; Tomalty; Shants; Meldrum; Menzies and Jones. Subs: Grant, Watt, Hantiuk, Spencer, Jardine, Holmes, Kennedy, Ingram.

Officials: Cam Smith and Johnny Melnyk.

SUMMARY:

Penalties: None.

Second Period: Waterloo, Allen (Dawe) 5:40; Waterloo, David (McQuay, Wright) 7:10.
Penalties: None.

Third Period: Ponoka, Watt 11:24.

Penalty Paves Way For Tiger Victory

BELLEVUE, Dec. 9.—(CP)—A costly elbowing penalty to Bill Schevetz in overtime paved the way for Medicine Hat Tigers to edge Bellevue Lions 10-7 Wednesday night in a Western Canada Junior Hockey league game before 1,000 fans.

With the score tied 7-7 at the end of regulation time, Schevetz was banished in the first minute of the extra session and Tigers promptly rapped in two goals within 20 seconds to clinch the game. They added a third goal just as Schevetz came back on the ice.

Tigers' goalie Buddy Noon, last year with Edmonton South Side Juniors, drew a penalty in the third period. It was served by Petrie.

Pla-Mors Thump Omaha Knights

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Kansas City Pla-Mors defeated Omaha Knights 5-2 last night in a United States Hockey league game before 2,500 fans.

Buffs Crush Native Sons 6-2

CALGARY, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Calgary Buffaloes bounced back into winning stride Wednesday night to trounce Lethbridge Native Sons 6-2 in a Western Canada Junior Hockey league contest.

A slim crowd of 400 fans, who braved sub-zero weather to witness the contest, watched Buffs spot Sons the only goal of the opening period and then ram three goals in each of the second and third frames. Lethbridge tallied their second marker in the final canto.

Victory strengthened Buff' hold on the top rung of the six-team league. They now hold a six-point margin over the runner-up Moose Jaw and Regina sextet. Sons are in fourth place.

Remember New York Ice Follies?

Remember that smelly ice show—New York Ice Follies or some such that came this way two-three years back? . . . Henry Mendel was the advance agent for the one trip extravaganza (?) and the same gent has popped up in a similar role where Joe Louis' exhibition tour is concerned . . . Incidentally the Brown Bomber—who may or may not be a candidate for Poverty Row—supposedly has coined $100,000 so far . . . Ray Barry, sharp little pivot when he played with Maple Leaf juniors in the season 1946-47, is one of the more effective members of the Boston Olympic entry in the Quebec Senior loop . . . Are The Caps A-Feudin' (?)

There's talk that all is not peaches and cream in the camp of the Regina Caps, currently cutting out the pace in the WCHL . . . Stories that certain of the players were not on speaking terms, one with another, and that Art Somers, firebrand coach, was non compos mentis with several of his hirelings, or vice versa, flushed this admission from team manager Cliff Ehrle: "Whatever trouble there was has been ironed out." . . . So? . . . Attention J.G.: Doug Anderson of the Flyers is home grown all the way, having been born in Edmonton and having played all his hockey here . . . He is 21 years of age, weighs in at around 155 pounds . . . Yes, you can expect to see him back in the line-up and possibly sooner than you think . . . Nominate Woodcock To 'Horizontal Group'

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Les McGrath nominates Bruce Woodcock for membership in Japan's celebrated group of people who refuse to bow to the Emperor because they believe all people should be on the same level. It's called the "Horizontal Society."

Looks like Cleveland Indians had taken over the job of getting square with the Mexican league, what with trying out Roberto Avila, who led the south-of-the-border hitters in 1947, and Mike Garcia, a California pitcher of Mexican decent.

Paul Noel of New York Knickerbockers probably set an all-time basketball record for fouling out when he acquired six fouls in less than 11 minutes against the Philly Warriors. Maybe he'll challenge Lee Savold.

Ward Cuff, former football Giant who coached a Wisconsin high school team this fall, encountered two previously unbeaten rivals on successive Saturdays and licked both. Ward says he did it by rigging up new defences so the kids didn't know who to block.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE

An unidentified London correspondent of the staid New York Times: "If ever there is a championship for one-armed performers, Woodcock will be right up there, provided he still has his left."

END OF THE LINE

Cincinnati Reds can add nicely to the spring training confusion by coming up with a battery of Millard (Dixie) Howell and Homer (Dixie) Howell. It should be a Howell-ing success.

Sugar Ray Injured, Bout Off

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson came up with a lump the size of a pullet egg between two of his lower ribs Wednesday, causing an indefinite postponement of his scheduled 10-round bout with Steve Belloise Thursday night at Jersey City.

The welterweight champion received the injury in his final boxing session on Monday, when Tiger Wade, a 170-pound sparring partner from San Francisco, belted him in the left side.

Technically, the injury is a separation between the sixth and seventh ribs. He will have to remain strapped up for at least a month.

Andy Niederreiter, promotor for the Tournament of Champions said it would be necessary to wait and see how the injury heals before setting a new date.

The two fighters were to have come in under 160 pounds—Robinson at about 156—and the general thought behind the match was that the winner would qualify for a shot at Marcel Cerdan, the middleweight champion.

Detroit Shades Maple Leafs 4-3

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—(CP)—A third period goal by Jim McFadden gave Detroit Red Wings a 4-3 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs Wednesday night in a NHL game played before 13,195 fans.

McFadden and Bud Poile, a Leaf castoff, led Red Wings to their fifth consecutive victory and their first on Toronto ice since the play-off at the end of the 1947 season. This forward pair combined on three goals, Poile scoring one and McFadden two.

LINDSAY GETS ONE

The other Detroit goal, first of the game, came from the stick of slick Ted Lindsay, the left winger whose return to action after an injury started the second-place Wings back on the victory trail.

Howie Meeker, Harry Watson and Cal Gardner tallied the Toronto goals but the mainspring of the Leaf attack was solid Bill Ezinicki. He gave the opposition a rough passage all the way and was a constant scoring threat. He had an assist on Gardner's goal.

Leafs had a wide edge on the play and kept Harry Lumley busy. The Detroit goalie had to handle 45 shots while his mates tossed 32 at Turk Broda.

D. Bentley Paces Hawks To 3rd Spot

CHICAGO, Dec. 9. — Chicago Black Hawks moved into third place in the NHL by defeating Boston Bruins 4-3 here Wednesday night. Doug Bentley scored twice in the last period to give Hawks a hard-earned victory.

Bentley had an assist earlier and the three points put him into the league's individual point lead with 24 points.

Bruins held a 2-0 lead before the intial period was 10 minutes old, Jimmy Peters and Ken Smith rapping home goals. At 15:52, however, Gaye Stewart hammered in the first Chicago goal while Bruins were short a man.

At 4:56 of the second period, Roy Conacher drove in a close one that tied it at 2-2, where it remained until 7:26 of the final heat when Pete Babando restored Bruins to the lead.

Twice within a space of less than five minutes, Bentley whacked the puck past goalie Frank Brimsek.

LINE-UPS:

Aussie Team Match Next for Wrestling

It's almost impossible to please everyone but a good percentage of Edmonton's wrestling fans will be gladdened by the news that promoter Al Oeming has at last lined up a team match.

When main event time rolls around next Monday night (the date was moved up a day because of the Edmonton Flyer game Tuesday) it will be good against evil, personified, respectively, by Don Sugai and Pat McGill on one hand and Lew Newman and Jerry Meeker on the other.

The contest will be staged under Australian Tag Team rules whereby only two wrestlers are in the ring at one time. The other pair must stay outside the ring in their own corners and grasp a two-foot piece of rope attached to the corner post. They let go of the rope and enter the ring only at the request of their partner.

The team match promises much excitement for the habitues of the Stock Pavilion. It will be a first two falls affair with a 75-minute time limit.

A newcomer, one Chico Garcia, Phoenix, Ariz., will appear in the semi-windup. The 230-pound grappler tangles with Rube Wright in a best-two-of-three match with a 45-minute time limit.

EACs Hard Pressed To Shade Canadians

Flyers Return In Good Shape

The Flyers were back on their home beat again late Wednesday, still licking the wounds picked up when the Maple Leafs set them down hard by a 4-2 count in Lethbridge Tuesday.

NO SERIOUS HEADACHES

Actually the 'wounds'—so called—didn't amount to a hill of beans. Apart from Freddy Smitten, who quickly headed home from the station to do something about what looked like the onslaught of stomach flu', there wasn't a serious ache in the crowd. Even Colin Kilburn, knocked cold in the Tuesday clash by a Pete Slobodian bodycheck, was about as chipper as usual.

"Sure, I'm okay," the hardrock who operates in the left lane grinned.

Coach Frank Currie has a workout planned for Thursday at 6:00 p.m. He indicated that he would make no plans about a possible further shake-up in the line-up to meet Saskatoon Quakers here Friday, until after tonight's drill.

Doug Anderson, Bill Pettinger and Louis Holmes have not seen action of late.

Snead Favorite In Miami Open

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The first major golf tournament of the winter circuit, the $10,000 Miami open, begins today at Miami Springs golf course, and Sammy Snead, Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmy Demaret are hailed as the men to beat.

Snead, three times winner of the gruelling 72-hole tournament, carries a slight edge as favorite and is ranked a 3-to-1 choice among the bet-takers.

Baseball Deal

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Milwaukee club of the American association Wednesday purchased Howie Moss, outfielder, from Baltimore Orioles of the International Baseball league. The price was not disclosed. Moss led the league in home runs for five years, getting 53 in 1947 and 33 this past year.

Clubmen Eke Out 4-3 Win; Leafs Wallop South Side

The 'good things' proved to be just that in Junior league warfare at the Arena Wednesday night. Both the loop-leading Maple Leafs and their newest rivals, Edmonton Athletic club, turned in victories as the usual twin-bill was offered before a slim gathering.

Edmonton Athletic club barely edged a fighting band of Canadians by a 4-3 count. Leafs had it easier while topping South Side 8-3 in the aftermath.

For a time, as the curtain went up, Canadians appeared headed for an upset triumph over Eddie Cutts' Clubmen. Roy Hammond staked them to a one goal lead at 12:14 of the first period and the Haley brothers, Don and Len, got together early in the middle frame to make it 2-0.

By this time the fans were sensing a Canuck win. However also along about now Jack Schofield, with Gil Lauze making the play, put EAC back in the running by flashing the light at 3:15. Near the close of the period Lauze struck for a pair of quick counters to finally shoot the Clubmen to the front where they stayed over the rest of the route.

George McAvoy raised the margin to 4-2 on a breakaway near the 10-minute mark of the final stanza and just before the finish Bill Trimble ambled in alone to score Canadians' last tally. EAC then held on to win by the odd goal in seven.

McAvoy drew a match misconduct penalty in this frame, the charge being stated as "an attempt to kick an opponent."

A pair of razzle-dazzle little forwards in Bill McNally and Ken Watson sparked Maple Leafs to their victory over a South Side team that was far too careless defensively on this occasion.

Both McNally and Watson fired a pair of goals, the others coming from the sticks of "Scotty" Thomason, Os Barry, Ron Phillips and Jimmy Stewart.

McNally also scored a one-punch victory over Nick Diachok of the South Siders as the two gamecocks tangled in the third period.

LINE-UPS:

Maple Leafs: Paterson; D. Barry and Pringle; Ball, Carnegie and Thomson; Mendryk, Phillips, McNally, G. Barry, Purkiss, Krook, Watson, Stewart, McCauley.

South Side: Hughes; Omelus and Crough; Johannson, Cherski and Gauf; Diachuk, Bennett, McCloskey, Towle, Young, Paudson, K. Calvert, Stogryn, C. Calvert.

Black Remains On Danger List

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Don Black of Cleveland Indians has responded satisfactorily to a major brain operation, his doctor said Wednesday, but he will be on the danger list for a few days.

That, said Dr. Spencer Braden, is customary in cases like Black's.

The Cleveland pitcher underwent an operation to remove the aneurysm believed to have caused a brain haemorrhage during a game with St. Louis Browns Sept. 13.

UNBEATABLE TRIO of Judy Garland, Gene Kelly and Cole Porter shines in MGM's new technicolor musical, "The Pirates," which opens today at Edmonton's Empress Theatre. National Film Board short, "Who Will Teach Your Child," is an added attraction.

Garland and Kelly Re-united by MGM

Technicolor Musical Opens Today At Empress

The gay story of a romantic young girl who dreams of a bold, bad pirate and what happens when she meets him on a colorful Caribbean Island forms the setting and theme for MGM's new technicolor musical, "The Pirate," which opens at the Empress Theatre today.

Marking the reunion of Judy Garland and Gene Kelly for the first time since "For Me and My Gal," made in 1941, the picture is a musical adaptation of S. N. Behrman's play which Lynn Fontaine and Alfred Lunt presented with great success on Broadway.

It's a gay, gaudy adventure into the realm of the skull and crossbones—a joyous song-and-dance festival, laid on a romantic island in the Caribbean early in the nineteenth century when bold, dashing pirates roamed the seven seas in search of gold—and love'

Judy Garland, enacting the role of Manuela, romantic heroine, is given her most ambitious singing and dancing assignment.

Gene Kelly plays the adventurous, young mountebank who impersonates a fearless pirate in order to scope for his dancing prowess in win the heroine and is given wide several spectacular production numbers.

Cole Porter, marking one of the few times he has created a musical score expressly for a motion picture, has contributed six new songs which are destined to rank with his memorable "Night and Day" and "Begin the Beguine."

Ranging from rousing pirate choruses to haunting romantic ballads, the numbers include, Love of My Life, You Can Do No Wrong, Be A Clown, Nina, Mack The Black, and Pirate Ballet.

The supporting cast is headed by the veteran character-actor Walter Slezak, in the role of a pompous official hiding his black past under a cloak of feigned respectability. Other feature parts are played by Gladys Cooper, Reginald Owen and the dancing Nicholas brothers.

A National Film Board featurette "Who Will Teach Your Child," rounds out the program of entertainment presented by the management.

Death Of Couple Ruled Accidental

TABER, Dec. 9.—(CP)—A coroner's jury decided yesterday that the deaths Tuesday of an aged Taber couple—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Probert—were accidental.

The jury decided that the deaths resulted from failure to shut off completely the gas valve for the oven of a stove in the Probert residence. Mr. Probert was 82, his wife 79.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Jolson-Parks fans had better not count on a third edition of the Mammy-singer's biography. Al Jolson already has recorded enough songs for a third musical based on his life. But Larry Parks, who once fought against doing the current sequel, "Jolson Sings Again," indicates that he is giving up song-and-dance movies.

"Before Jolson, I did a couple of musicals in which I used my own voice," Larry said. "But musicals are too tough. They take 10 years from your life I'd just as soon not do any more."

AROUND 'N' ABOUT

Bob Hope hits the road again Jan. 4. A month's tour will find his radio show airing from Pittsburgh, Houston and Atlanta and he'll play benefits in other parts of the country. Concerning his gruelling schedule, Bob commented: "It's exciting. New towns . . . new people . . . new golf courses."

Maureen O'Hara flew back to town for a radio broadcast and reported she will adopt a child if she has no family plans of her own soon. The adopted child would come from a convent in Eire where Maureen's sister is a nun.

Abbott and Costello join the parade of Hollywood entertainers at London's Palladium. They are set for an appearance next August. The boys' next for Universal-International will be "A and C Meet the Killers." A take-off on the Mark Hellinger picture.

CAPSULE REVIEW

"Words and Music" (M.G.M.) is the standard biography of popular composers. Stuffed with stars names, too many tunes and an inane story. Tom Drake is Rodgers and Mickey Rooney plays the hapless Hart, who apparently died from being jilted by a smalltime songstress. Numbers by Gene Kelly and Vera-Ellen, June Allyson and Ann Sothern help relieve the dull story.

Alta. Recreation Planning Praised

CALGARY, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Recreation planning in Alberta "stands out very well," Ernie R. McEwen, secretary of the Recreation Division of the Canadian Welfare Council, said on his arrival here last night.

Mr. McEwen arrived in Calgary from Victoria, B.C. He is gathering data on recreational development in all sections of the Dominion. He said use of school buildings for recreation "is the most practical way for a community to extend its recreation facilities."

Ice Plant Drive Adds $1,000 More

DRUMHELLER, Dec. 9.—(CP)—The latest Community Centre Association drive for an artificial ice plant at the Drumheller arena got rolling in high gear yesterday with donation of $1,000 by the Kinsmen service club. Proceeds of this drive will be added to more than $20,000 collected for the artificial ice plant in earlier drives.

Ike For President Backed by Truman

Eisenhower Reports Offer of Assistance

This is the [illegible] of Dwight D. Eisenhower's "Crusade in Europe." It contains highlights of the [illegible] lished by Doubleday & Company. Copyrighted by Doubleday & Company, [illegible]

CHAPTER XXVII

The difficult problem of displaced persons pressed more immediately on my attention than my personal relations with the Russians. A displaced person was defined as a civilian outside the national boundaries of his or her country by reason of war, who was desirous but unable to return home or find a home without assistance, or who was to be returned to enemy or ex-enemy territory.

Of all these DPs the Jews were in the most deplorable condition. For years they had been beaten, starved, and tortured. Even food, clothes, and decent treatment could not immediately enable them to shake off their hopelessness and apathy.

They huddled together—they seemingly derived a feeling of safety out of crowding together in a single room—and there passively awaited whatever might befall. To secure for them adequate shelter to establish a system of food distribution and medical [illegible] to say nothing of provid[illegible] sanitary facilities, heat [illegible] light was a most difficult task. They were, in many instances, no longer capable of helping themselves; everything had to be done for them.

NOT DIFFICULT

The first business meeting of [illegible] July 10. Chairmanship of the [illegible] was [illegible] and a fine spirit was initially noticeable. Differences of opinion developed but most of these in[illegible] details of procedure or method, and in the prevailing co-operative atmosphere none of them seemed to threaten great difficulty.

In early July we received word that the Potsdam Conference would soon convene. Again we had to prepare accommodations and [illegible] VIPs (soldiers' language for Very Important Persons) but in this [illegible] the American delegation only.

I went to Antwerp to meet the cruiser on which President Truman and Secretary Byrnes came to Europe. There I had an opportunity to discuss with them a few [illegible] I thought important.

First, I urged that civilian authority take over military government of our portion of Germany at the earliest possible date. I pointed out to the President and the Secretary that, while the army would obviously have to stay in control until order was asured, the government of individuals in their normal daily lives was not a part of military responsibility.

PRESS EFFORTS

When I returned to the United States in late 1945 as Chief of Staff of the Army, I continued to urge the wisdom of this move upon Secretary Byrnes, but learned that he had undergone a change of heart. Though always agreed in principle, he would not agree to implement the idea because of the administrative and financial burdens that would thus be placed upon the State Department.

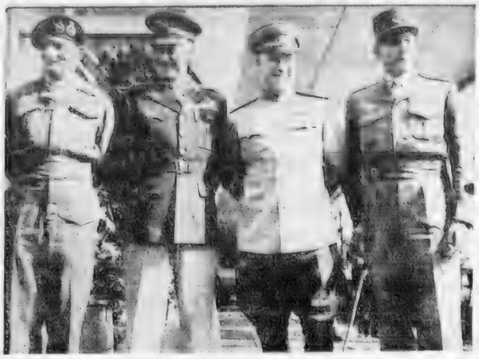
Another item on which I ventured to advise President Truman involved the Soviets' intention to enter the Japanese war. I told [illegible] indicated the imminence of Japan's collapse I deprecated the Red Army's en[illegible] personal opinion that no power on [illegible] out of that war unless victory came before they got in.

A third suggestion I made to the President was that we preserve some flexibility in the termination of Lend-Lease arrangements with the French and British. I was unfamiliar with the exact provisions of the law covering the matter, but I knew that the mere cessation of hostilities did not instantly and appreciably lessen French and British need for quantities of food and supplies from us, upon which they had counted with confidence.

I informed the President of my [illegible] German economy, and [illegible] the problem of reparations in such a way as to insure Germans an opportunity to make a living, provided they were ready to work. Of this readiness there was no doubt.

ATOMIC TEST

I had a long talk with Secretary Stimson who told me that very shortly there would be a test in New Mexico of the atomic bomb, which American scientists had finally succeeded in developing. The results of the successful test were soon communicated to the Secretary by cable. He was tremendously relieved, for he had apparently followed the development with intense interest and felt a keen sense of responsibility for the amount of money and resources that had been devoted to it.



BIG FOUR CONFERENCE at Berlin giving Allies full supremacy over Germany was signed by (from left) Field Marshal Montgomery, Eisenhower, Marshal Zhukov and Jean de Tassigny on May 7, 1945, three days after surrender at Reims.

I expressed the hope that we would never have to use such a thing against any enemy because I disliked seeing the United States take the lead in introducing into war something as horrible and destructive as this new weapon was described to be. Moreover, I [illegible] if we never used the weapon in [illegible] norant of the fact that the problem of nuclear fission had been solved. I did not then know, of course, that an army of scientists had been engaged in the production of the weapon and that secrecy in this vital matter could not have been maintained.

One day when the President was riding with General Bradley and me he fell to discussing the future of some of our war leaders. I told him that I had no [illegible] except to retire to a quiet home and from there do what little I [illegible] the war had [illegible] and the inescapable responsibilities that would devolve upon us all as a result of those changes.

TRUMAN SUPPORT

I shall never forget the President's answer. Up to that time I had met him casually on only two or three occasions. I had breakfasted with him informally and found him sincere, earnest and a most pleasant person with whom to deal.

Now, in the car, he suddenly turned toward me and said: "General, there is nothing that you may want that I won't try to help you get. That definitely and specifically includes the Presidency in 1948."

I doubt that any soldier of our country was ever so suddenly struck in his emotional vitals by a President with such an apparently sincere and certainly astounding proposition as this. Now and then, in conversations with friends, jocular suggestions had previously been made to me about a possible political career. My reaction was [illegible] have the President suddenly throw [illegible] recourse except to treat it as a very splendid joke, which I hoped it was.

I laughed heartily and said: "Mr. President, I don't know who will be your opponent for the Presidency, but it will not be I." There was no doubt about my ser[illegible]

In all our dealings with the Russian authorities in Berlin we were particularly careful to carry out to the letter every commitment and engagement, even where these were only implied or understood. During the months of August, September and October there prevail[illegible] couraged us to believe that [illegible] noying details. On [illegible] there were many [illegible] patience wore [illegible] to achieve the una[illegible] ments necessary to progress of any kind.

One of the sub[illegible] which the Soviet auth[illegible] us frequent letters of complaint was what they claimed to be unauthorized flights of American airplanes over Russian-occupied Germany. Periodically the Russians submitted to us a detailed list of these alleged violations, in such numbers that specific investigation was completely futile.

All we could do was urge all air units to be [illegible] but finally I went to Marshal Zhukov and told him that I thought these inconsequential and unintentional violations were far too petty to engage the constant at[illegible] I remarked that in each case he had to write a letter which I then had laboriously [illegible]

[illegible] forces, and not under his com[illegible]

It seemed [illegible] system but somewhat in line with what we considered to be the Russian practice of overcentralization. In any event, I told Marshal Zhukov to keep sending the letters and that I would keep sending him the same stereotyped replies. He said that was quite satisfactory.

We encouraged the exchange of social visits, particularly [illegible] Americans and Russians, and these affairs seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by both sides. The Russians love entertainment and genuinely appreciate any kind of music; so the jokes, companionship, and the orchestras at a dinner made all these occasions most successful.

LEARN LESSON

We learned another lesson when at the Council of Foreign Ministers in London sharp official differences reportedly developed between Secretary Byrnes and Mr. Molotov. [illegible] became ap[illegible] sians in Berlin. Red A[illegible] who had already acc[illegible] invitations from Allies [illegible] their regrets or failed to keep the engagement. Formerly pleasant [illegible]

[illegible] ope of [illegible] taught by the war, [illegible] greatest war the United [illegible] had ever f[illegible] la[illegible] of a new kind of warfare.

Tomorrow's instalment of "Crusade in Europe," which will be published here [illegible] some of General [illegible] own conclusions from this study. It includes his estimate of coalition warfare, its difficulties and its great possibilities, his judgment of the fighting qualities of American soldiers, his rating of air power in modern warfare.

EDMONTON BULLETIN

Phone 26121 EDMONTON, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1948

FREE MOVIES FOR SOMEONE

If finders are keepers, some person in Edmonton [illegible] be seeing quite a few movies. [illegible] reported to police the loss of a roll of 1,000 theatre tickets last Saturday in the vicinity of the Le[illegible] hotel or main bus depot.

Tickets have not been re[illegible] recovered, police said.

Curler Seeks $4,500 in Suit

William W (Billy) Rose, one of Alberta's most famous curlers, is seeking $4,500 general and unstated special damages for a broken leg and ankle sustained in a traffic accident on December 14, 1947.

The Sedgewick curler is suing John W. Welbourne, Edmonton, driver of the automobile which collided with the motor car in which Rose was a passenger.

John Herman, owner of the car in which Mr. Rose was a passenger, also is seeking $2,000 general and [illegible] from Mr. Welbourne.

He suffered cuts to the head, a wrenched knee and other injuries in the accident.

The statement of claim was filed by the law firm of Wood, Buchanan and Campbell.

Home Planning Pitfalls Told

Problems in home designing were related to members of the Y's Men's Club by Kelvin C. Stanley, Edmonton architect Tuesday evening in the YMCA.

Mr. Stanley pointed out pitfalls to be avoided from the purchase of the lot to the finished dwelling and outlined features of modern home construction.

City Seaman Wins Promotion

Able Seaman Joseph Hornesty, RCN, of Edmonton, has been advanced to Acting Leading Seaman, according to a recent list of advancements in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Born in Lublen-Wielki, Poland, 21 years ago, Acting Leading Seaman Hornesty joined the Royal Canadian Navy in August, 1946, as an ordinary seaman. He has served in a number of ships and establishments [illegible] HMCS Ontario. He is presently stationed at HMCS Naden, Esquimalt, B.C.

Big Traffic Gain Is Seen For Transportation System

Traffic on the city's transit system will likely show a substantial gain over the all time record of last year instead of the approximately 1,000,000 decrease in patronage forecast at the beginning of the year.

November patronage totalled 3,215,253 compared with 3,144,925 for the same month last year, an increase of 70,328.

Cumulative traffic total for the 11 months ended November 30 this year was 33,364,813 compared with [illegible] for the same 11 months of last year, an increase of 110,328.

Thomas Ferrier, superintendent of the system, announced Wednesday that 10 trolley buses, costing $210,000, would be delivered this month. Three of the buses are now on rail from the Canada Car and Foundry Co. plant at Fort William.

When these are delivered the system's trolley bus fleet will be increased to 87 vehicles.

Delivery of these vehicles will provide ample units to take care of the anticipated winter patronage, Mr. Ferrier stated.

It is estimated that a further 20 buses will be placed on order early next year to provide vehicles for new trolley bus lines going into operation in 1949.

City Traffic Action Urged

Readily apparent and unchecked violations of traffic regulations will be brought to the attention of the civic administration by the traffic committee of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

Reporting Wednesday to the Council of the Chamber of Commerce members of this committee pointed out that traffic control and movement was becoming a more serious problem every day.

Public opinion should be aroused to the traffic difficulties experienced both by the motorists and pedestrians and if remedial action is not taken following the committee's conference with civic authorities action should be taken to focus public opinion on this problem.

The traffic committee also is considering means of control to be exercised over taxi-drivers using public streets with little concern to public safety.

Meetings Set By Stockmen

Four provincial stock breeders' asociations will hold their annual meetings December 16 and 17 in the Council Chamber of the Civic Block.

An informational program and election of directors will be featured at the meetings, with a general discussion of matters affecting the respective industries.

Horse Breeders are scheduled to meet Dec. 16 at 9.00 a.m., followed by Cattle Breeders at 2.00 p.m.

Provincial Sheep Breeders and Swine Breeders' Associations will hold their meetings Dec. 17 at 9.00 a.m. and 2.00 p.m., respectively.

Hon. D. A. Ure and Lawrence M. Rye will be guest speakers at a banquet and dance to be held in the Macdonald Hotel Thursday, Dec. 16, at 6.30 p.m.

Three Youths Jailed For Auto Theft

PENTICTON, B.C., Dec. 9.—(CP)—Three Quebec youths yesterday were convicted of automobile theft in police court here and each sentenced to 18 months in jail.

[illegible], 20, Ray [illegible], 19, and Marcel Charbonneau, 19, were charged Dec. 3 following a police chase at the international boundary near Osoyoos, B.C. The car, owned by a resident of Oyama, B.C., overturned and was wrecked.

Jail Sentence For City Man

A 41-year-old man who was apprehended at Winnipeg recently and returned to Edmonton to face a breach-of-trust charge, was sentenced at police court Tuesday to 18 months at hard labor in Fort Saskatchewan jail.

He is Larrie Shannon, who left Edmonton on or about Nov. 17, allegedly in possession of more than $1,000 in rents collected for a city landlord.

Prior to leaving Edmonton, Shannon was employed as a part-time janitor and rent-collector for both an apartment and a rooming-house.

Panel Discussion Held On Jobs By Three Groups

Relationship between industry, National Employment Service and the schools was the subject for a panel discussion at a meeting of the Personnel Asociation of Edmonton held in the Corona Hotel.

C. L. Metcalfe, secretary of Northwestern Utilities, represented industries in the discussion; J. I. Grodeland represented the Employment Service and W. P. Waggoner, director of guidance for the Edmonton Public School Board, represented schools.

Rodney Pike was chairman of the panel discussion.

Fifty members engaged in vocational guidance and counselling and welfare work in Edmonton attended the meeting. President A. A. "Hap" Aldrich presided.

THEFT, CRUELTY BRING TERMS

A Winterburn man, Harold Belrose, who was already serving a short sentence in Fort Saskatchewan jail, was ordered to spend additional time there when he appeared in police court Tuesday.

He was given a [illegible] sentence by Magistrate J. W. McCulla on a charge of theft and 30 days for cruelty to animals.

According to evidence given by A. Lawrence, humane officer, he left a team of horses tied to a fence in Jasper Place for an unreasonable length of time.

Labor Vote Inconclusive

Choice of a bargaining agent for employes of the Union Packing plant in Calgary remains in doubt following the taking of a vote earlier this week.

Though the CIO-CCL union, the United Packing House Workers won a victory in the number of ballots cast, it failed to win a majority of those entitled to vote for a bargaining agent.

There were 267 workers in the plant who voted, but 228 were eligible to express their preference in choice of a bargaining agent. The UPWA won 135 of the votes, the present Alberta Federation of Labor union, who have been acting as bargaining agent, took 127.

In order to win the nod as accredited bargaining agent for the employes 145 votes were needed, according to the Alberta Labor Act.

Board of Industrial Relations will discuss the problem arising from the vote at a meeting to be held next week.

TOO COLD FOR CRIME THROUGHOUT CITY

It was too cold for crime in Edmonton overnight.

City police had one of the quietest nights on record with only one major occurrence reported.

Ben Stymiest, Railhead, vicinity of 142 street and 107 avenue, was arrested by No. 6 prowler patrol in the Bonnie Doon area where he was allegedly operating an auto without the consent of the owner.

Stymiest was fined $50 in city police court today.

2 Senior Health Dept. Officials Are Retiring

Two senior officials of Edmonton's health department are retiring on pension at the year-end, it was announced today by Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health.

Mr Graham has been associated with the health department for 36 years, and Mr. Methuen served for 20 years with that department, and for seven years with the waterworks department.

Robert Meredith, assistant city chemist and graduate of the University of Alberta, will succeed Mr. Graham as chief chemist.

Mr Methuen has been requested to continue in his post as chief sanitary inspector until his successor, L. G. Alexander, returns from Topeka, Kansas, where he is attending a sanitary engineer's convention.

School Board Cuts Supplies

Edmonton Public School Board appropriated $27,273 for the purchase of school supplies for the coming year, at a meeting of the Board and Property Committee Tuesday evening.

The amount spent for similar purchases last year was $31,206. Tenders were called for each group of items, which ranged from chalk and scribblers to mops and brooms.

Three requests from Parkdale School were granted. Cement sidewalks will be constructed from the school building to the street sidewalk; more bicycle racks will be installed; and school carpenters will consider the possibility of rebuilding the stage in the gymnasium for easy setting-up and dismantling.

Two resignations were accepted from the teaching staff, those of Lenore Waehnow and Alice McKeever.

Victoria High School Students' Union will be repaid $18 in compensation for a recent break-in theft.

A slight increase in truancy was reported, 14 offenders being listed for the month.

Jet Pilot Dead When Aircraft Hits Warehouse

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Dec. 9—(AP)—A United States Air Force jet plane on practice manoeuvres crashed into a Fort Richardson warehouse Wednesday in a ball of flame, killing the pilot.

The Army said the flier, who fell clear of the crash when he tried to bail out of his burning P-80, was dead on arrival at hospital.

The warehouse, a single-storey, 200-foot long building containing electrical supplies, burned to the ground. As far as could be determined there was no one in the building. It was 300 feet from a structure in which 75 people were working.

An eye-witness said he looked up when the jet went over and saw the pilot dangling from the plane, head first, his arms flailing. His body fell free and struck a short distance from the spot of the crash.

Swift Calls For Changes In Schooling

School systems must be flexible and ready to meet the needs of a changing curriculum if progress is to be made in education. This was told to members of the Edmonton Home and School Council Tuesday night.

At the annual dinner meeting Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister of education, emphasized that school systems must recognize the fact that education is widening in scope.

Teaching methods, he declared, must be geared to new and varied studies which are consistently entering grammar and high schools. [illegible] advised, "so must the facilities."

He said it was necessary to consider the individual needs of the individual student.

Dr. Swift referred to the latest book of James B. Conant, president of Harvard University, "Education in a Divided World," and said the inequality of students must be recognized and understood, when considering their educational needs.

"All students have different backgrounds," stated Dr. Swift, "and each of these must be taken into consideration."

Successful solution of these and other problems would help Edmonton schools greatly in progressive education, Dr. Swift declared.

Indian Is Hero Of Fliers' Rescue

Makes Long Arctic Trek To Get Help For Two Men

Two rescued fliers who survived 72 hours in 60-below-zero temperatures are thawing themselves out today at a tiny Canadian hamlet inside the Arctic Circle.

The men—Mike Zubko and Dr. J. C. Callaghan, both of Aklavik, N.W.T.—crashed in bushland about 1,200 air miles northwest of [illegible] while on a flight from Fort Good Hope, N.W.T., to Arctic Red River, N.W.T. Their rescue was achieved after an unidentified Indian who also was aboard the plane made a long and torturous trek [illegible].

FEW PROVISIONS

The plane took [illegible] with Zubko, an [illegible] pilot, at the [illegible] 20 miles from Fort Good Hope. The aircraft was forced down. The three men escaped from the crashed plane without [illegible].

While Zubko and Dr. [illegible] huddled over a brush fire the Indian began a difficult trek back to Good Hope. With a cooking pot known as a blow-pot, Callaghan and the pilot made tea and hoarded their meagre supplies.

INDIAN HITS TRAIL

Despite hardships in the [illegible] themselves as comfortable as possible while the Indian stumbled through the deep snow towards Good Hope.

Zubko and the doctor wrapped their heavy parkas more closely around them as night added darkness to the biting cold. For three days and nights they stayed by the crashed plane.

It wasn't until yesterday when they saw a ski-equipped Norseman overhead that they knew the Indian [illegible]. The Norseman [illegible] an open space and Canadian Pacific Airlines pilot Bert Birch stepped out.

Soon the rescued men were aboard the CPA plane which was on a flight from Norman Wells, NWT, south of Fort Good Hope, to Aklavik, near the mouth of the MacKenzie river.

Birch told them how the Indian had finally arrived in Fort Good Hope. The RCAF was enlisted in a search as soon as the plane was reported overdue and a network of teletypes and radio beams reached into the northern wilderness telling of their plight.

By the time [illegible] Norseman at Aklavik, almost 100 airmiles further north than Arctic Red River, Dr. Callaghan and Zubko had learned the tale which for days had reached the outside world only in brief radio flashes.

Parents Should Prepare Child Against Teasing

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Children have to learn to take teasing. It will be part of their normal experiences and it would be folly to pretend that they could escape it. It remains for the parent to interpret teasing and minimize its importance.

People have two objects in mind when they tease. One of them is to get the better of the other person and acquire a sense of importance themselves. This results when an older person makes some preposterous statement to the child and then can laugh heartily when the gullible child believes it. Obviously, this is teasing which can be carried too far. We want children to have faith in us and not develop too suspicious an attitude.

It's well to tell children that if [illegible] possibly know what is [illegible] what is fiction they need not be upset when they discover [illegible] have been misled. If they should have used their heads, [illegible] has a right to his triumph.

Another type of teasing is mal[illegible] It is intended to make the child feel unhappy, not just foolish. The teaser makes remarks which the child cannot refute. The teaser says, "Your grandfather beat [illegible] can only say, "No, no [illegible] while the teaser says, [illegible] he did, he did, he did."

We may have to hunt for the roots of such desire to be mean. In the first type of teasing the child or adult merely wants to be momentarily superior; in the second the teaser is getting a [illegible] pleasure out of making the child miserable. Why is this so? Because he is envious or jealous, perhaps.

If this happens between children in the same family, the parents should be alert to discover the cause of these festering wounds. It may be that all the teaser needs is to have more loving, parental attention so that he will abandon this particular way of righting [illegible] tices to himself.

Children should be prepared for teasing and know how to [illegible] and parry it. Not only will [illegible] make them happier, but they will be less [illegible]

Grisdale Wedding Picture In Pastels

Pastel frocks of the attendants formed a delicate contrast to the bride's traditional white gown at the wedding Wednesday of Viola Annetta Margaret MacKenzie and Dr. Lloyd Carl Grisdale.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. MacKenzie, of Lacombe, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Grisdale, of Ottawa, formerly of Olds.

Rev. R. B. Layton performed the ceremony in McDougall United Church before an altar banked with yellow and bronze mums.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin, styled with a sweetheart neckline and lily point sleeves. The full skirt terminated in a train and a floor length embroidered veil was held by a coronet of seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and pale pink roses.

Mrs. H. W. Leggett attended her brother's bride as matron of honor. Her gown was of light blue brocaded taffeta, styled with a nylon yoke, three-quarter length sleeves, and a full skirt. She wore a coronet of flowers in her hair, and carried a cascade bouquet of pale pink carnations.

Similarly styled bouffant frocks of pale mauve and pale green brocaded taffeta were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Dodds and Miss Marge Rusk. They featured off-the-shoulder necklines and full skirts gathered into bustles. Both attendants wore coronets in matching shades and carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Cousin of the bride, little Dianne Thirsk, was flower girl. Her frock of yellow brocaded taffeta was similar to the bridesmaids and her headdress was a coronet in matching tone. She carried a small nosegay.

Best man was Dr. Robert Johnson and the guests were ushered by Murray MacKenzie and Harry Leggett.

At a reception held following the ceremony in the Macdonald hotel, the mother of the bride and the mother of the bridegroom assisted the bridal couple in receiving.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. MacKenzie chose a floor-length dress in black crepe, styled with short sleeves and a long peplum and trimmed with bronze and silver sequins. Her black cocktail hat was trimmed with three gold roses and she wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

Mrs. Grisdale's floor length black dress was trimmed with pearls and gold sequins. Her hat was a cocktail model of black velvet and feathers, and she wore Talisman roses en corsage.

After a honeymoon trip to Eastern Canada and the States, Dr. and Mrs. Grisdale will make their home in Edmonton.

Kids Haven't A Chance When Pop Sees New Toy

Small girls "oh" and "ah" before the array of dolls, refusing to be dragged away even by force. Eager faced young lads solemnly inspect plane models, racers and chemical sets.

But they haven't got a look-in at the electric-train display. Father gets there first every time. And junior waits patiently b[illegible] hoping that Santa Claus will send him a set, and maybe dad will let him play with it next summer.

Mechanical toys on the market today are extremely intricate, and should sustain small fry interest for many weeks.

The chemical sets also are most advanced for toys of that kind. Junior may blow himself up and the family with him, but he's sure to learn something about what makes the world go round.

To keep pace with the times, many well known comic strip figures have stepped from their pages and will walk right into the heart of comics-loving youngsters.

There's Mickey Mouse, Pluto the Dog, "Sparkle" Plenty—and many others.

Oh, yes, mother and father won't have any trouble shopping for toys for the small fry. The trouble will be to keep from playing with them once Santa has paid his visit come Christmas Eve.

ALICE! How in blazes do you always get one end of my steak so tough?

Now take it easy, Jim. Watch your blood pressure. We'll admit you have a point, though. With meat prices what they are today, no one wants to waste even a single bite... But maybe it's not all Alice's fault.

Your problem began in the way Nature arranges meat on every beef. You see, there are two kinds of lean meat in each beef animal. One kind cooks nice and tender by dry heat. The other kind requires moist-heat cooking. Nature, of course, does not worry about cooking methods—so she puts both kinds side by side. But they don't have to be sold in the same cut. So Alice's butcher must share the blame. The less-tender end of the steak should have been cut off before Alice bought. It belongs in stew meat or in ground beef. (Then it costs less per pound.)

More Xmas Sweets For Busy Hostesses

Seems that holiday hostesses just can't have enough of those sweet things, so here are some more recipes to add variety to your entertainment menu.

Specially handy are goodies which don't need to be cooked —like cereal cookies, for instance. Not only that, they can be whipped up in a tremendous hurry, and are simple enough for even small daughter to make.

Two old English holiday beverages which go well with refreshments of this type—so I'm told—are mulled cider and syllabub.

Turkeys To The Fore In Holiday Season

Turkey Talk for Holiday Cooks Means Careful Cooking of Birds

By JANE SCOTT

With the holiday season approaching turkeys once again take the spotlight so today we're going to give you a few tips on the purchase and preparation of the traditional holiday fare.

To insure a delectable bird, you have to begin in the market. Be sure, turkey growers insist, that the [illegible] young and soft-meated.

Select the bird that is well-fleshed with a broad full breast. The flesh should be yellow and the breast-bone flexible.

There should be no prominent [illegible] on the breast. Small families should buy hen turkeys. They are smaller than the Toms but quite meaty. Incidentally, it's better to buy a few more pounds and get a meaty turkey. Don't worry about what to do with leftovers, there are plenty of good uses.

But getting back to the holiday [illegible] steam their birds. They say this process improves the flavor. It can be done the day before.

First remove the pinfeathers and wash the bird inside and out very carefully. To steam, place the turkey on a roaster with a little water in the bottom.

If some members of your family or guests prefer a more exotic stuffing, you can accommodate them, too.

Stuff the body with the savory and the neck with an oyster or [illegible]

[illegible] the breast with toothpicks. Bake for half an hour at 475 degrees and [illegible] low 20 minutes cooking time per pound.

All you have to do now is to make some rich brown gravy to pour over the tender succulent slices of dark and white meat you'll [illegible]

Industry is Shifting To Smaller Centres

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Manitoba has shared in a rend towards the decentralization of industry in Canada and the United States.

In past years, manufacturers looked upon Greater Winnipeg as the logical site for their industries. But since 1940, [illegible] per cent of the companies which have come into the province have been established outside the Greater Winnipeg area.

[illegible] Minister J. S. McDiarmid [illegible] of [illegible] the [illegible] Boards of Trade earlier [illegible]

[illegible] McDiarmid cited the example of the town of St. Pierre, southeast of Winnipeg. A group there decided after investigation [illegible] which might be employed in a garment factory. It [illegible]

Dominion Bank Assets Reach $393 Millions

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—Canada has [illegible] well-safeguarded [illegible] which the Canadian [illegible] should be slow to [illegible] a state monopoly of banking, C. H. Carlisle, president of The Dominion Bank, told shareholders at the annual meeting in Toronto on Wednesday.

Mr. Carlisle detailed the safeguards set up by legislation governing chartered banks, which are [illegible] governing commercial [illegible] supplemented by the [illegible] own auditing and inspection.

Analyzing the financial statement, [illegible] general manager, Robert Rae, pointed out that net profits for the year were $1,122,000 with $700,000 paid in dividends and the balance carried to profit and loss account. Assets reached a new high of $393 millions, deposits increased by $35 millions to a total [illegible]

Mr. Rae cautioned business, large and small, to maintain an adequate working capital position and adopt a conservative attitude towards inventory accumulation and capital expenditure, in view of signs that prices, volume and employment may rise less abruptly or even flatten out.

Increase in Selling Hits Oats and Barley

WINNIPEG, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Prices generally showed a lower trend today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, reflecting a moderate expansion in selling.

Oats and barley came in for selling by commission houses while American houses were [illegible] barley. Shipper demand was in evidence on the recessions.

Rye was being offered by commission houses, with light American house activity in connection with inner spreading. Flax trade was dull and inactive.

In the only export business reported, 750,000 bushels of wheat were allocated to the United Kingdom under the Canadian wheat agreement. Class two wheat prices were reduced one cent from yesterday.

Livestock

EDMONTON, Dec. 8.—Total receipts: Cattle 484, calves 59, hogs 454, sheep 3.

Thursday's cattle market continues active under very light receipts. Owing to the very severe weather deliveries were sharply reduced. Quality was very ordinary, with practically no good to choice cattle on offer. Local demand is keen and today's offerings should be cleaned up in a fast market. Prices are fully steady with the week's advance.

Choice steers 23.00-24.00. Choice heifers 19.00-20.00. Good heavy cows 15.00-16.00, good lights 16.00-16.50. Bulls 14.00-19.00.

Notice To All Livestock Shippers: Protect stock from severe weather by using plenty of bedding, and be sure to slat the opening in railway stock cars and trucks.

Stockers and feeders. Good short keeps 18.00-20.00. Good stock steers 16.00-18.00, plain 11.00-14.00. Stock heifers 13.00-15.00. Stock cows 11.00-13.00.

Hogs. Grade A for shipment 29.35 per cwt. Grade A at plants 28.00 per cwt. Sows lightweight on yards 20.00 per cwt. Feeder hogs 22.00-25.00 per cwt., according to quality.

Lambs firm. Choice local handyweights 18.00-19.00. Off cars up to 20.00-20.50 per cwt. Yearlings 7.00 [illegible] per cwt., [illegible] ewes [illegible] Medium ewes 4.00-5.00 per cwt. Feeder classes were in good demand quoted from 15.00-17.00, choice up to 18.00.

Veal calves. Good to choice handyweights 18.00-20.00, per cwt., extreme top 21.00. Heavies 15.00-17.50, common kinds 11.00-14.00.

West Oil Issues Continue to Slip

Losses Range Up To 30 Cents; Metals Ease; Golds Hold Firm

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Western [illegible] downhill for the fourth successive day on the T[illegible] Exchange today. The group was in a one-way decline [illegible] creased selling pressure. Industrials also weakened but moved in a narrow range. Base metals were slightly easier and golds held firm at Thursday's gains. Volume was about 1,131,000 shares.

Losses were steep in some of the western oils and trading heavy. Home Oil was down about a point and Anglo [illegible] Leduc, [illegible] ranging from 5 to 30 cents.

Utilities led the downward trend in the industrial list. Steels moved irregularly in fractional range and foods were also lower. Refining oils reflected the weak western oils, dipping in active trading. Liquors edged ahead and papers held firm.

Smelters and International Nickel were down fractions in a weakening base metals group. Steep Rock, Sherritt, Labrador and Falconbridge also slipped as action [illegible]

The golds held firm on Thursday's moderate advances. Lake Shore touched a new low in the [illegible] Addison were improved. Juniors were very quiet with a handful of penny issues dipping to new lows.

NEW YORK MARKET SHOWS SMALL LOSSES

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The stock market developed a wobbly streak today after early steadiness.

Losses were small though and many issues were either unchanged or a little higher.

A good amount of business was done, with turnover running at the rate of 1,300,000 shares for the full session.

Many shares responded to corporation news and traders generally kept an eye out for issues in which special situations existed.

INDUSTRIALS, MINES DOWN AT MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Industrials were on a fractional downswing during quiet trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange today. Mines also moved into easier ground in a narrow list.

Oils, papers and utilities were on a downtrend as metals were mixed. Home Oil dipped ⅜ while McColl and Imperial Oil slipped ¼ each. B.A. Oil was shaded. Both Pacific Petroleum and Anglo Canadian lost [illegible] off ¼. [illegible] Brazilian were shaded. Papers had Great Lakes and Consolidated Paper off ⅜ and ⅛ respectively. In metals, Aluminum was still ahead ¾ while Noranda lost ¼.

RENT?
ONE WAS SMART

ONCE UPON A TIME there lived a man who never bought a house because he was afraid the prices would drop. The years went by and the prices dropped but never low enough for our friend. This man paid rent for fifty years and then died, his rent had averaged $30.00 a month, so he paid out $18,000, but he didn't own a stick. His poor wife was now forced to take in washing.

BUT his friend was different, he bought a house, paid off most on rental terms, and had a clear title after 7 years, he then continued to save his rentals, invested them at 6%. Fifty years later he still owned his own house and his compound savings had netted him $40,000.00.

WHICH MAN ARE YOU!

Hi-Jackers in Britain Cause Claims Here

MONTREAL, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Activities of a gang of British hi-jackers, who substituted worthless oakum and rope for valuable goods they pilfered from export shipments to Canada, have resulted in $1,000,000 in claims against the dominion's three largest transportation systems, James H. Edwards, Canada Steamship Lines freight claims agent, said last night.

A CSL official said today that none of the claims had yet been paid but his company and Canadian National Railways and Canadian Pacific Railway had suffered a loss "in prestige and reputation" because of the padded shipments.

Mr. Edwards said that bales of linens, textiles, silks and clothing reaching the country were short of goods and that hemp, oakum and rope had been stuffed into these bales to make up the bulk and weight.

50 ARRESTS MADE

The agent said the investigation, instituted by himself in 1946 when he became suspicious of an increasing number of claims against the CSL has been in the hands of Scotland Yard since then and as a result more than 50 persons were arrested in Britain, including a number of railway officials.

He said the hi-jackers, operating on a huge scale under cover of a chain of wholesale stores, robbed many truckloads of goods on the way to British ports for shipment to Canada.

"Because of persistent shortages—Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways claims amounted to $500,000 a year and CSL $50,000 to $100,000 annually—I think the facts should be made known," Mr. Edwards said.

TRUCKS ARE ROBBED

He stated that many of the largest firms in England have unknowingly been selling prime export goods, mainly shoes, silks, textiles and cloth, bought from a chain of wholesale stores which the hi-jacking gang operated.

"The men who worked for the huge hi-jacking organization robbed truck after truck of goods in short supply."

Medical Plan Progressing

That worry about doctor's bills can now be solved in Alberta by subscribing to a new plan for prepayment on a monthly basis.

Medical Service (Alberta) Incorporated supply the mans.

This organization, incorporated at the 1948 session of the Alberta legislature, is offering prepaid medical care to group organizations and already without any fanfare or publicity have lined up large employe groups at Lethbridge, Edmonton and other parts of the province.

Though sparkplugged into existence by members of the medical profession, the organization allows for only one doctor on its board of directors. All members of the board are elected annually.

Provinces Urged To Market Foods

Local Governments Have Power Gardiner Says

OTTAWA, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner suggested Wednesday to the provinces that they make greater use of legislation which permits them to compel farmers to deliver produce to them for marketing purposes.

Addressing the final session of the Dominion-Provincial agricultural conference, he told the delegates he was not prepared to say whether the Dominion would enact marketing legislation at the forthcoming session of parliament.

However, he reminded them that each of their provincial governments had Natural Products Marketing Acts which gave them the authority to market agricultural products.

As Anglo-Canadian food contracts lapsed—only three would operate in 1949—the Dominion lost its wartime power to market products and had to dissolve its various boards.

HAVE POWER

Recalling that the Dominion had enacted legislation to bring oats and barley under the Canadian Wheat Board, he said the provinces could help by bringing their acts into operation on these grains. The provinces had said they needed supplementary legislation but this was not so. They already had the power.

Mr. Gardiner also indicated that the Agricultural Prices Support Act, now in operation for apples and potatoes, would be used to ensure that farm prices do not decline before the prices of other commodities go down. He was not sure that a marketing act would solve this problem.

The pattern used for apples and potatoes under the Support Act could be used for other products.

Unlike previous Dominion-Provincial farm conclaves, this conference made no recommendations for 1949 production targets, confining itself to an outline of future prospects.

LOSING POWER

Mr. Gardiner indicated this was because the federal government gradually was losing its wartime powers to requisition foodstuffs to ensure fulfillment of export contracts. This authority now was returning to the provinces.

He was pleased to note that some delegates had suggested Canada's wheat acreage be left at 24,000,000 acres annually. He felt this was about right, though he would prefer to see 20,000,000 acres seeded to wheat, 20,000,000 seeded to oats and barley and 20,000,000 left in summerfallow.

He indicated the Dominion could not continue indefinitely paying freight assistance on food grains moving from western to eastern Canada and suggested the eastern provinces seek lower freight rates.

O. S. Longman, deputy minister for Alberta, urged that Canada do a better job of salesmanship on her farm produce. If she was going to get world markets she would have to make the effort. Canadians were too prone to assume that they had a superior product without trying to sell it.

Regina Elects Garnet Menzies Chief Magistrate

REGINA, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Election of Garnet N. Menzies, 62, a printer and alderman of Regina for 17 years, as mayor was conceded by his closest opponent, George R. Bothwell, former newspaperman and now publicity director of the Saskatchewan Government Insurance Company.

Menzies, who headed the Civic Voters Association slate, polled 4,275 votes in 15 of 24 polls. Bothwell, heading the Co-operative Labor League, described as a CCF front in a bid for municipal honors, had 2,242 votes while Edward R. Powell, employe of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, leading the United Labor Association slate, had 453.

Civic Voters' Association candidates took all five aldermanic seats open while it appeared five money by-laws covering street railway and storm sewer expenditures would pass.

Aldermen elected were L. H. Hammond, Miss R. T. McGill, H. G R. Walker, J. Wilkie and J. A. Young.

Pacific Typhoon

MANILA, Dec. 9.—(AP)—A typhoon swept across Northern Luzon during the night and blew into the China sea today. Winds reached 47 miles an hour on the northwest coast.

U.S. Spy Hunters Still Press Pumpkin Puzzle

WASHINGTON, Dec 9.—(AP)—Congressional spy hunters redoubled their efforts today to bare the whole story of how top American secrets could wind up in a pumpkin shell.

In the background was:

1. A member's charge that the administration is trying to "silence" the House of Representatives un-American Activities Committee.

2. Testimony that "many more than 10" Russian spy rings either have been, or still are, operating in this country.

Representative Karl Mundt (Rep. S.D.), acting chairman, told reporters he believes the mystery of the pilfered documents will be fully solved before the committee hears out the 11 witnesses it plans to summon during the next few days.

It was at a meeting last night that Russian-born Isaac Don Levine, a repeat witness, outlined his estimate of the extent of Russian espionage in the United States.

GO-BETWEEN

Levine, now an American citizen, was the go-between for Whittaker Chambers when the admitted former Communist courier decided to take his story to the government in 1939—two years after breaking with the Communists.

It was from a pumpkin on Chambers' farm that microfilm copies of some of the pilfered documents were removed only last week.

Communist Gains Still Mounting In China War

NANKING, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Government military sources admitted today that Chinese Communists have inflicted heavy casualties on three encircled army groups on Nanking's approaches.

They said the 16th Army Group was believed to have been virtually wiped out. The 16th and the two other groups garrisoned Suchow until last week, when they withdrew southward in an effort to relieve the trapped 12th Army Group in the Suhsien sector.

The military sources said the groups had reorganized and now are resuming attacks in an attempt to break through. They described the Communists as suffering heavy losses also.

Much depends upon whether the former Suchow garrison can join the 12th at Suhsien, 45 miles south of Suchow. Then both forces could fall back to the new Hwai river defence line, 105 miles northwest of the Chinese capital.

Newspaper Reports Major Defence Plan

VANCOUVER, Dec. 9.—(CP)—The Vancouver News-Herald today said a major defence plan between Canadian and American forces is shaping for the Pacific coast.

It reported that high-ranking service officers of three armed forces met here yesterday and later went to Victoria.

"At the same time the submarine USS Baya, which naval officials termed on a 'routine cruise,' dropped anchor in Jericho Bay and later proceeded to sea," said the News-Herald.

(Naval authorities at Esquimalt headquarters said that Baya put into Vancouver because of "heavy weather.")

"Secrecy shrouds the visit of Canadian service heads and their consultation with U.S. defence chiefs," added the newspaper.

"Coincidental with the arrival of army and air force officials from the east, was the arrival on the west coast of Rear Admiral H. G DeWold, RCN flag officer, Pacific coast."

THIS BONNET, representing the Eiffel Tower, won Parisienne Simone Robillard the title of Queen of the Catherinettes during St. Catherine's Day festivities, when all unmarried girls of 25 years or more pay homage to their patron saint—and hope she'll get them husbands.

U.S. Population Is 147 Millions

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9—(AP)—The population of the United States reached 147,280,000 Oct. 1, the census bureau estimated today Since the last census in 1940, the population total has risen by about 15,500,000 persons.

The first passenger railroad in the United States—the Baltimore and Ohio—was established in 1828.

New Mayor For Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Ald. Charles E. Thompson today was mayor-elect of Vancouver, elected in the heaviest poll in the city's history.

The car salesman and garage-owner with a total of 32,228 votes had a plurality of 2,937 over three rivals—Tom Alsbury, CCF candidate, who polled 22,990 votes; Mrs. Eddie Jones, Civic Reform Association, 5,992, and Peter McAllister, Independent, 309.

The election of Thompson, sponsored by the Non-Partisan Association, and with incomplete returns showing NPA candidates leading in the race for city council, school board and parks board, indicated the non-partisan forces had turned back the CCF bid for municipal power.

Ald. John Cornett, Ald. George Miller, Archie Proctor and Birt Showler—all NPA-sponsored—led 11 candidates for city council. Mrs. Grace MacInnis, wife of Angus MacInnis, CCF member of parliament for Vancouver East, was a close fifth.

Yesterday's vote was more than 5,000 greater than the 56,000 in 1946 when the late Senator G. G. McGeer was elected mayor.

U.S. Secret Deals With Reich Claimed

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Daily News today says the Whittaker Chambers copies of state department documents showed that the United States was discussing secret deals with Germany and supporting Neville Chamberlain's "appeasement" in 1937 and 1938.

Secret Toronto Files Missing, Reds Blamed

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—(CP)—A full investigation into the disappearance of secret documents and files—believed to deal with the storage places of government-owned high explosives—was ordered yesterday by Mayor Hiram McCallum.

The mayor said "every effort will be made" to locate the responsibility for the disappearance from assessment department files of the missing papers, brought to light Tuesday by city controller K. B. McKellar.

W. J. Stewart, chairman of the board of assessors, admitted yesterday that secret documents relating to his department had been missing for some time, but said all had been recovered.

Mayor McCallum, referring to charges by Con. McKellar that "Communists had something to do with their disappearance," said:

"Strange as it may seem, the evidence is such that since the three known Communists who were found to be working as temporary employes on reassessment work were dismissed from the service, no further incidents of files missing have occurred."

He revealed that police had been called in to find the guilty persons. They had been unable to uncover sufficient evidence to warrant prosecution.

Miner Killed

GLACE BAY, N.S., Dec. 9.—(CP)—George Morgan, 49-year-old coal miner, was killed yesterday when he was crushed against a coal box by a runaway steel-laden mine tram. An inquiry was ordered for Dec. 20.

Woodworkers In Open Battle

COURTENAY, B.C., Dec. 9.—(CP)—The battle of court rooms and meeting halls has flared into the open.

Violence broke out Wednesday in British Columbia's woodworking industry when Stewart Alsbury of New Westminster, president of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO), and two other union officials were attacked and beaten.

The attack occurred when they attempted to cross a picket line of the Leftist Woodworkers Industrial Union at the nearby Iron River Logging Co. where a strike was called last month by the WIU in protest against a board rate increase.

The strike was termed illegal by the Provincial Labor Relations Board and the men, IWA members, voted 50 to 4 to return to work. Fifty men resumed work Wednesday.

Alsbury was taken to hospital here suffering possible broken ribs bruises and shock.

It was the first report of violence between the rival unions. Previously, all dealings were conducted in court or at private meetings.

1 HEIDI By JOHANNA SPYRI. The Cinderella story of a sunny little Swiss orphan that has delighted generations of young readers.

2 THE MERRY ADVENTURES OF ROBIN HOOD By HOWARD PYLE. The fascinating adventures of the generous outlaw and his loyal band.

3 PENROD By BOOTH TARKINGTON. The hilarious adventures of a typical boy and his friends in an average American town.

4 REBECCA OF SUNNYBROOK FARM By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN. About a little girl who was short on looks, long on charm.

5 SEVENTEEN By BOOTH TARKINGTON. A warm, chucklesome tale of young—love-lorn Willie, lovely Lola, and kid sister, Jane.

6 BAMBI By FELIX SALTEN. The beloved life story of a forest deer, from the time he learns to walk, until he takes a mate.

8 HEIDI GROWS UP By CHARLES TRITTEN. The book that was written for the thousands of children who fell in love with Heidi.

10 THE WIND IN THE WILLOWS By KENNETH GRAHAME. Beloved adventures of the unusual animals who lived along the river in the mysterious wildwood.

12 UNDERSTOOD BETSY By DOROTHY CANFIELD. Elizabeth Ann was sickly and spoiled until a vacation on a farm worked miracles.

13 BOB, SON OF BATTLE By ALFRED OLLIVANT. A heroic sheep dog risks his life to protect the flocks from an unknown enemy.

14 PETER AND WENDY By J. M. BARRIE. The story of Peter Pan, the boy who never grew up, and his adventures with pirates and fairies.

15 DADDY LONG-LEGS By JEAN WEBSTER. The story of Judy, who learned to love the unknown benefactor who took her from an orphans' home.

21 HEIDI'S CHILDREN By CHARLES TRITTEN. The famous tale of life in the Swiss Alps. A delightful sequel to the beloved HEIDI and HEIDI GROWS UP.

22 PENROD JASHBER By BOOTH TARKINGTON. Rollicking misadventures when Penrod decides to go into the private detective business with his friends.
